April 2005

A powerful industry is skyrocketing due to the ease of connecting people through the internet. It's a mode of communication and interaction that brings new opportunity to the forefront like the world has not seen. Those who recognize the powerful business in this era of online connections and communities stand to benefit financially in astounding fashion.

SoulMate is a very real opportunity to catapult you to your financial dreams – whether that is an extra few hundred dollars a month, or to complete financial independence - to live how you choose. The best part is that you get to have a lot of fun making other people happy while setting yourself free. It doesn't get any better than that.

So who and what is SoulMate?

SoulMate is a Relationship & Travel Network that connects people through online encounters, spectacular travel and live events.

We offer an extensive travel service with featured trips, for our members to experience upscale travel among a friendly community that networks online. SoulMate members enjoy a bond with others they've met online in fun, relaxing and exotic settings, and have the option to engage in learning relationship skills.

Relationships are formed through internet communities and networks where people connect, communicate and interact with those they otherwise would never even meet. People can find others who are thousands of miles away, or just across town, and discover new friendships, and even find the love of their life. All they need is SoulMate - a great online service that provides the network and technology and the fun begins.

There's no time like now to cash in on the fastest growing online industry that exists. People want to hear about it, just by the very mention of meeting people online and fabulous travel. We take relationships to a much deeper and richer level by being the Relationship Company.

We all know the challenge is not just in meeting, but in keeping your SoulMate. So, for single and married alike, growing lasting relationships is critical to peace and happiness. Through SoulMate's Real Love program, and our elite travel destinations - growing lasting relationships can't help but be the end result.

When you couple online social connections with the $500 billion travel industry, you have two powerful trends for success. Even the Wall Street Journal reports that there will be enormous growth in the online personals space throughout the next decade making it the fastest growing industry online.

SoulMate is the first company to ever combine the power of online relationships and travel using an invitation only model. YOU have to be invited to participate in our community as a Member or Partner.

The audience for the SoulMate story is just about anyone, because most people are becoming aware of online social networking and are curious to find out more.

OK, here is the important part - and it's all about you, your dreams and your future.

Using the power of referral marketing, the immediate income you can generate through sharing fun, romance and travel is something extraordinary. And SoulMate offers you the opportunity to build an ongoing monthly residual income.

So, how you can make money with SoulMate?

It's quite natural to share what we do at SoulMate with others because we're all about fun, adventure and romance. In fact, our whole marketing model is driven by this explosive concept of people telling other people about something they regard as beneficial. So we reward you for something you already do, naturally. SoulMate provides a very lucrative compensation program to our Partners who help us do 2 simple things:

- 1) Invite and refer Active Members
- 2) Enlist other Partners to do the same.

For doing so, you have the opportunity to earn immediate cash income and build long-term residual income.

Invite others to get involved with SoulMate and help you build a powerful network. To earn commissions from referring others to SoulMate.com, you simply become a Partner or an Ultimate Partner. Although all commissions are available to both Partners and Ultimate Partners, the resources, tools, training and support offered to an Ultimate Partner make it the preferred choice.

The Standard Commission Plan pays commissions for new qualifying Ultimate Partners, new active Members and for monthly recurring subscriptions. The Leadership Bonus Plan pays bonuses above and beyond the standard commissions.

The Standard Commission Plan is an attractive 7-level program that provides income for personal Active Member and Qualifying Ultimate Partner referrals. The monthly recurring subscriptions build your residual income.

Commissions are paid when an Active Member or Qualifying Ultimate Partner begins their subscription, and monthly thereafter, for as long as their subscription continues. When new Partners join your referral network and begin inviting new Active Members and referring Qualifying Ultimate Partners, you can qualify for recurring commissions on these referrals as the network grows – through 7 levels.
