Re: Watch Out for 7KAdvantage/Jack Weinzierl is an EVIL Rat! Liar and Scammer!

$48,841.25 for the month of June - 2005 alone!

Jim Wald, I understand, was in this scam before Wacko Jacko. Jim talked in the early days of making millions with this Advantage Conferences scam. In early 2005 Jacko came along and became the second in command usurping Jim's spot. I have tons of e-mails where Tim is asking Jack what he should do. Tim is totally incapable of making a decision without Jack. Jack also quickly surpassed Jim as the "stud" earner on parade. Not to be rude, but Jack has a little more of the charm and charisma necessary to bilk folks out of their life savings. I am sure there are many that resent the huge amount of money Jack has made. He has far surpassed everyone else. He has also been the big advertiser that is highly visible on the internet. No doubt he is making lots of enemies. I hate to point out the obvious, but Jim holding that check in that picture looks positively creepy.

Soapboxmom,

You are correct...Jim was our "national training director" with quite an ego to boot. He definitely had his "favorites" and as such, would construct illegal and unknown to Tim "deals" with certain reps. It violated the AC Rep. agreement, but I never told Tim or anyone else. There were only two of us who knew about it, besides the "favorites" and they sure weren't going to talk about it. They knew it was wrong, but made money so they did it anyway...unbeknownst to Tim. Me and one other rep turned it down based on illegal and unethical reasons. But hey, they have to live with it, not me. I kept my mouth shut about a lot, because if one did attempt to tell Tim, he would likely tell you that you had a "bad attitude" or were being "negative". It was very much a cult mentality. If you made sales you were GOLDEN in Tim's eyes, but the minute you didn't or someone "better" (read: MORE MONEY, like Jack) came along. Then Tim no longer had time for you. Very true and I know others reps experienced the exact same thing. He covered his tracks with that by saying he was too busy now since AC was growing by "leaps and bounds"....what bs.

Re: Watch Out for 7KAdvantage/Jack Weinzierl is an EVIL Rat! Liar and Scammer!

One other thing...I swear the feds infiltrated AC early on. There was a guy from CA who came to one of the first conferences and I think his name was Bill. He was around 6-6'2", fit, dressed well, just average looking, but he definitely thought he was cute. I never saw him again and other reps didn't know anything about him. It was as if he was there to see what AC was all about and then he vanished out of thin air. He made the comment to several of us at the meeting that he was going to "be first" and "beat us all" at making money. He was very corny about the way he said it, almost in a mocking fashion. Several of us thought he was a little strange...he asked us lots of questions too. Maybe nothing, but that guy was suspicious and definitely seemed "too cool" to be in AC. I'd swear he was FBI or something. The guy was just not believable.

Who has the most luck with the ladies. Is it scammer, Jack or Jimbo seen here. Jack lists himself as the President of Soulmate from May 2004 to March 2005. Perhaps Advantage Conferences could be saved from its Titanic decent by running a dating service on the side!

Soapboxmom

Haha! That was funny! Jim paid for a lot of reps expensive dinners at the conferences, so his reps flocked to him so he'd pay. Additionally, as I've already mentioned, he backed a lot of these reps by doing "under the table deals" with them. THAT is how Jim got people. But, ol'Jack is just sleazy and hits on women when he is out of town...away from both Tim and Stephanie...can't have any "witnesses" you know cuz he's SUCH a great Christian!

Hard to tell, I know he took another hit once his reps found out he lost the lawsuit.

Although some might not be smart enough to know what Summary Judgement means..

Interesting, seeing that he was sooo "loyal" to AC...at least until the money dried up. Which is what these serial marketers do as career MLM'ers. I wonder who sponsored Jack into Vemma? I guess he views AC as the Titanic now...lol!!!

Advantage Conferences Christian Entrepreneur Ministry Blog

Monday, April 16, 2007

Welcome to our TGIM Thank God It's Monday call with Jack Weinzierl.

I am so excited and honored to be with each of you this morning.

Dear Heavenly Father, we thank you for this day and this time of fellowship and learning together. We thank you for touch on our lives and on our Advantage Conferences businesses. We know it is you who gives us power to get wealth, not so we hold tightly to it, but so it can flow through us. I thank you for every single person on this line today, encourage them to see that their business is Your business, their business is a ministry, we come expecting, in Jesus precious name we pray, amen.

Wealth is only happening for you, Jack, Tim, and 4 others who had broken even as of Sept. 2006. With one conference this year things can't be looking good for anyone else. Remember the numbers. If we give each rep 15 sales ($105,000) and then tell the reps they have made the 100 grand promised and must quit. 300 reps need 4500 reps/conference ticket sales (remember you have no retail sales). Those 4500 new reps need (x15)
67,500.....1,012,500.....15,187,500.....227,812,5003,417,187,500.....51,257,812,500.....Jack your scam is unsustainable only the few early entrants can break even. 98%, according to Tim, are failing in this scam.
Quote:

So we're supposed to believe on Him, the "living" Savior and take Him at His Word which His Word is active and...ALIVE...

Our confessions of Faith become warfare to the enemy. Vs. 45-46 For us, 2 Corinthians 4:13 - 18 With the same breath, I speak what I believe....David like faith.... As living stones...because we serve a living God, we walk in His living Word which is active and alive to carry out a live "out loud" faith! You've got the Word of God and a mouth to speak it...you've been called to war, now speak it.

Are you a "living stone" for God wholly, or are there issues in your life that are Goliaths, giants in your walk limiting what God wants you to be.

...able to transform any heart, to carry out a "living" out-loud FAITH so that we may fulfill His great purpose and lead others to Him...free and released to be His "living" stones.

You are a complete nutbag, Jacko boy. There is no war. I am fighting a pyramid scheme business. I am not the enemy of Christianity, that is really what you are. Religion should not be the hook to lure folks into your dishonest business venture.
Quote:

Folks, this is not a 10 week business, it is not a 10 month business, it's a 10 year business. It pains me when I see good people quit on the 5 yard line. Sure, they make it sound noble why they quit, but they are still quitting.

But, scammer boy you keep promising folks 100 grand a year with the potential for much more on your websites. Aren't you backtracking significantly, liar. None of Tim Darnell's many scams have lasted anywhere near 10 years, or even 5. This deal is sinking fast as we can see by the fact Jack is selling his million $$$$ shack. Reps who have lost 10-20 grand are getting out before they lose any more promoting this scam and most importantly because they don't want to harm others spiritually and financially by bringing them into this scam.

Quote:

Expectation is key. I expected 4 new personal MMC-IVs this past week before the tax day and we had 2 new MMC-IVs on Thursday and Friday, as well as 1, Erika McKay starting today...What are you expecting?

We can have the same kind of expectancy from God's word. If God said it in His Word, the Bible, we can be sure He will keep His promise. God cannot and will not lie. Expect God's words to come true, and you can expect to have joy forevermore. Expectancy is something you can choose intentionally. If what you expect for each day and for your future is biblical, you will have joy every day of life, from now on into eternity.

Jack, your dishonest advertising got you these poor unsuspecting reps. God does not mean for folks to be financially and spiritually destroyed by you.

If God cannot and will not lie can you explain this:

Quote:

Hi Team,

As some of you know, we applied for Better Business Bureau membership in October of this past year. Their response to us was to take our $375.00 membership fee and post surprisingly erroneous information about our Company. Upon being advised of the posts, we immediately sent the documentation that clearly showed the errors of their posting. To our amazement, they refused to take them down, correct them, or much less apologize for their mistake, establishing a clearly belligerent stance with AC. They offered no contract for enrollment and no explanation of their irresponsible action. We, therefore, are now in the process of litigating against the north Texas chapter (an independent for-profit franchise) on several counts.

Our case is iron-clad and we are well represented.

If you have any instances of a Candidate who saw the posting and decided to not continue the 3 Simple Steps, the President's Interview, or enrollment due to that posting; or if you have a Rep who was intimidated by the posting and decided to pursue other activities, our case will be strengthened by knowing those particulars...If you saved any e-mail messages from one of these scenarios, that would be wonderful.

With that being said, Advantage Conferences is growing at a fantastic rate and the caliber of individuals coming on board is almost beyond my comprehension (though not really). The quality of Reps is exactly what we have prayed for, expected and envisioned; and now humbly accept as God's favor and goodness.

This confrontation with the local agency is our willingness and obligation to stand up to our giants and let them know they can't arbitrarily libel a company based on non-truths. We will have future challenges as well, and we are resolutely equipped, with God's merciful hand, to deal with each and every one. I truly thank you for your support and spirit of forward movement. This is truly an amazing company with amazing people. More importantly, God is absolutely in control, and we will prevail (as plaintiffs).

Tim Darnell

Tim and AC lost in a summary judgement.

Quote:

What is the Lord doing through your business? What are you EXPECTING the Lord to do through your business?

Pray to the God who can do the impossible. Plan to overcome the difficult. Persevere to get the job done. By prayer, planning and perseverance. I simply expect that God can do the impossible.

This business is mathematically impossible!

Quote:

I strongly encourage those believers out there to pray over and speak over their businesses every day...that the right individuals see the opportunity and get involved and that the wrong people do not. There is tremendous power in prayer and standing in agreement with other believers.

Are you standing in faith or in fear? Are you seeking wisdom and then taking action on what you learn or are you making excuses of why that will not work for you. How many people on the calls this week will take what they learn and apply it? Well, prove the statistics wrong...and know that most of your competition will quit before they really get started. That is a fact in any business. The Good News is if you are resolute and committed, you will win. If you quit, you lose.

Prayer does not correct a pyramid scheme business model, nor has it stopped your dishonesty and blatant misrepresentation in your ads and webpages, Wacko Jacko. How are those of us who speak out against egregious scams like yours standing in fear. We have the courage to bust your scam. I have faith that I was called to bust this scam.

Almost all folks who get involved with legitimate companies don't quit, you idiot, Jacko. Only pyramid schemes like Advantage Conferences have massive drop out rates. That is absolute bull. Most people I know have been at the same job or vocation happily for years.

Quote:

If you are standing in fear, spending time on the negative sites out there. ...Everyone wants to know the secret sauce. Are you listening closely? There is no secret source, at least not on the tools side of the equation. Your unwavering belief and your consistency and persistence is the key...

We must learn to translate wisdom and strong feelings into labor—many on this call have the wisdom and are passionate, but are not backing that with consistent action. You can focus and wish for less challenges, or for MORE wisdom. Wisdom without action however, does not produce fruit.

All leaders have a secret trait in common—some without knowing it... Confidence without arrogance. The secret to sponsoring more people is simple: it all comes down to how you present yourself and Advantage Conferences to others—your position of strength and confidence.

You are one of the most arrogant, dishonest goon out there, boy. You are Tim's closest confidant. You boys, have lied about the number of request for refunds. You and Tim had to admit in the Sept. 2006 affidavit that only 5 or 6 people were actually making a profit. Hundreds of others have lost all the money they spent on this scheme. 10 grand for the conference and then all the travel and business expenses which can include thousands advertising this losing venture add up to monumental life changing expenditures.

Wisdom would lead one to quit this business and not get any others involved and devastated financially. Nothing you said will fix this dishonest scam and make it any kind of opportunity for reps.

Quote:

Be confident in yourself

Be confident in the opportunity that we present to others—Advantage Conferences offers powerful Mindset Mentoring and a powerful income opportunity simply for sharing with others. You have the keys to a million dollar business for those you come into contact with online and off. Be confident in the home-based business industry. You are part of a powerful industry that has changed the lives of millions of people.

You have to know that you know that you know that you know that you will succeed. We are not TRYING this business, we are DOING this business!

You have all heard that knowledge is power and that readers are leaders. If you are a reader and then take no action, or if you acquire a bunch of knowledge and do nothing with it, then where is the power. One of the key differentiators for Advantage Conferences is we are not just teaching, we are providing a powerful business vehicle to put that knowledge into practice.

Powerful business vehicles don't have a 98% loss rate as disclosed by the president, Timmy boy!
Quote:

It's time to really work on controlling the TOXIC messages we listen to, often hours every day. The world is filled with negativity and there is a large cesspool of mediocrity. No one wants to be average, living in an average house, driving an average car, sending your kids to average schools, BUT most people are not willing to pay the price. I want to encourage everyone to really look at your thought life and what you are feeding your mind on a daily basis...Protect what goes into your eyes and your ears and feed it good teaching.

Have a blessed week, let's get the job done and impact people's lives around the world with this marketplace ministry.

Folks who want to impact the world could take that 10 grand and donate it to UNICEF so all the children around the world will be fed, educated and housed. That is much better than lining the pockets of liars like Tim Darnell and Jack Weinzierl. Our family gives to a number of charities each Christmas.

There is nothing but positive in warning folks about a scam like AC that will lose them 10-20 grand with a proven 98% failure rate calculated from the words of Tim Darnell himself. Jack, you egotistical schmuck, how insulting is that to discuss how the world is a "cesspool of mediocrity." Many of us are happy to be average. Unlike you, Jack, we have not lied, exaggerated, conned and swindled to make our livelihoods. You promise your reps a better life, but your scam is not the vehicle to get them there.

Re: Watch Out for 7KAdvantage/Jack Weinzierl is an EVIL Rat! Liar and Scammer!

SoapBoxDad/Jack Weinzierl answering the scambuster's question:
Quote:

How come Tim has told many to do "what ever it takes to come up with the $10,000, barrow the money, refinance your home, etc....,"?

That in fact is not what Tim shares or would share. If people are led to Advantage Conferences, they can be resourceful as I was

Now, compare the answer above with what Jack did himself below (in red)

Quote:

Never let anyone else determine your reality and you MUST do today what others won't, to have tomorrow what others don't. Yes, I used the word MUST. It is critical to sow the seed to have a harvest in your business.

I encourage you to recognize that you had a peace about starting your AC business, for many on the call today, God directed your steps here, and you have to determine if you are willing to pay the price of delayed gratification, coupled with investments of time and money to build this over the next 10 years with us. If you are thinking in terms of weeks or months, you are thinking to short and too small.

We each have the potential to build a multi-million dollar business and carry yourself that way, even before the checks started. If you invest $1.5 million in a McDonald's franchise, guess what, you are committed and you will do whatever it takes to make your business work. Well, our Advantage Conferences business is our first year netted close to what an average McDonald's netted. I am not managing 100 employees, I did not have a large capital commitment and I have created time freedom. I now have the ability to serve our ministry, coach soccer, and go to Bible school is that is where God leads me....

So, to translate, spend like your are already wealthy to lure in other suckers like Jack has and get yourself in financial peril. Remember Wacko Jacko sold the $550,000 house he mentions below that he purchased in June 2004 to upgrade to the $990,000 mansion he is now unloading as he obviously can't afford it after only 16 months. He only paints this as a long term business to get you to make another sale or 2 to line his pockets.

Quote:

Before individuals say—well Jack was well financed, was the president of his previous company, has his MBA—which means nothing in this business by the way, he doesn't know what $10,000 means to me. OK, time for a reality check and for transparency.

We keep it real in this business and time to dispel any preconceived notions you may have right now. I resigned from a six figure position as the president of a company 15 months ago. I did so with a $500,000 mortgage—yikes is right, having invested approximately $100,000 in MLMs and trying my best to build those over the previous 4 years losing all of that money, I had lost our life savings a couple years prior to that on a software stock--$90,000 and my wife home schools and stays home with our kids. I was looking at a $14,000 property tax bill, had no insurance except for Cobra at $1200 a month and then I found AC less than 2 days later. Failure was not an option. Now God had not brought those challenges on us as we do a pretty good job of messing things up on our own when our priorities are out of whack, but we did turn it over to Him in prayer and He is turned it around and I grew through the experience.

I am not a fan of debt except for appreciable assets like homes, but I started as an MMC-IV with a Visa check and invested $8,000 in marketing to build my business in month one—also on my Visa. Now, do I recommend that? NOT at all, but I was at a point of DISGUST about our finances, I knew we had been faithful in our tithes and giving and we had a peace about building an Advantage Conferences business.

We did not have income testimonials and when I started, we did not even have our product in place with the first MMC coming in mid-April. Now if you are already comparing your excuses while I am sharing, then you are missing the point altogether.

So please do not focus on the limited time or finances that you have and so on. Please stop spending your energies on making excuses. Almost everyone I have ever met can share their own reasons for NOT building their business. Focus on your why for building your business, not on your excuses. In fact, get disgusted with where you are at right now.

If they have been with Advantage Conferences and are out 10 grand for a conference plus thousands more for expenses I am sure folks are disgusted with you, you lying goon. You spent $18,000 on a credit card to start this scam???

Let's look at your home sales and purchases. You bought a $500,000, 3500 square foot, 3 car garage and pool home in June 2004. But greedy goons, like you, upgrade and buy a million $$$$$ mansion just a year and a half later. Then when your mansion isn't enough to draw in unsuspecting recruits and you are again in financial peril you put the mansion on the market after little more than a year. These brilliant "Millionaire Mindset Conferences" sure aren't benefitting you at all, scammer. You are always spending way beyond your means and what you have learned at these conferences isn't translating into real wealth for you. Your only source of income is your pyramid scam/ recruiting scheme Advantage Conferences.

Quote:

By the way, you can shut me off today and that is your prerogative, but if you are truly looking to be mentored, you need to take good medicine and your mentor must be someone who can say no to you. True mentors will tell you what you need to hear and not what you want to hear. Without correct navigation, you will eventually crash.

Yes, Jack you can't make any money unless you can control people. You want folks to sign on and bring in their own cash and then a training sale or 2 to line your pockets. You and Tim know there is a 98% loss rate as it is in the court papers from the suit Tim Darnell filed, but your own greed is what drives this scam.

Quote:

You can conform all of your life and not walk in victory, because you have not transformed and you have not renewed your mind. We need to be changed and that is what so excites me about Advantage Conferences as that is what we are about. We are not some motivational program that is short-lived with some new age mumbo jumbo, we are based in truth and focus is on transformation...

We were born (or I should say born again) to win, BUT we must choose to win!

Your pocketbook has been transformed, and as you need to protect your assets and perhaps skip town, the mansion you used to lure in your unsuspecting reps is now on the market.

Quote:

The Bible says that the devil comes to steal, kill, and destroy (John 10:10). And while he continues to try to bring death and destruction to your life and mine, he has no power to succeed!

Jesus says in Luke 10:19, "Behold, I give you the authority to trample on serpents and scorpions and over all the power of the enemy, and NOTHING SHALL BY ANY MEANS HURT YOU."

NOTHING means NOTHING. "NO weapon formed against you shall prosper." It covers every aspect of our lives: whether it be weapons of terrorism, fear, sickness and disease, debt, emotional pressure!

The children of Israel enjoyed supernatural protection from the enemies of death and terror. They enjoyed supernatural deliverance from the most ferocious army in the world, the Egyptians. The children of Israel enjoyed the plundering of the Egyptian's wealth, which was transferred into the hands of Israel. WE CAN ENJOY ALL OF THESE THINGS, and THEN SOME.

1. We must declare it with our mouths. Romans 10:10 says, "...with the mouth confession is made unto salvation". We must say that the blood of Jesus protects us, delivers us, and prospers us.

2. We must know that this covenant went into effect the day Jesus died on the cross.

3. We must come boldly to the throne of God's grace and make our request known to Him. (Hebrews 10:19).

4. We must hold fast our confession of faith even when things don't look good. "Let us hold fast the confession of our hope without wavering; for He who promised is faithful” (Hebrews 10:23). WOW, this is critical in our entrepreneurial walk. How many know that there are challenges and times in our walk where things may not look good?...

If you are on this call today and you have bitterness, unforgiveness, or are tired of trying to jump through religious hoops, please...is about a real and personal relationship with the Lord. God sent His Son not to condemn us, but to transform and deliver us.

If you have not made Jesus the Lord of your life, I pray that you do so right now. If you believe that Jesus died for you and rose from the dead and confess him as your Lord, you are saved. I was led to give this opportunity today as this is the most important decision we each can make.

Please pray with me. I thank you that you sent your Son to die for me, that He rose from the dead and I ask you Jesus to be Lord of my life, change me from the inside out, transform me, I am a new creature in Christ Jesus, amen.

If you prayed that prayer for the very first time, I encourage you to send Tim Darnell or me an email or call us to let us know so we can pray with you and congratulate you for making the best decision of your life.

Thank you everyone and have a blessed afternoon and see you on the $7,000 call.

And remember, sorrow looks back, worry looks around, but FAITH looks up!

Let's take action.

In Service,

Jack M. Weinzierl

Folks, please go to your local church. You should not be paying or charging other good Christian folks 10 grand for things they should be receiving at their local parrish.

Yikes!!!! It is really a buyers market, Jack. You had better take any offer you get on that mansion your greed drove you to purchase. Will that million $$$$ mistake be the topic of your next call, scammer?

I guess you didn't get much out of all those Millionaire Mindset Conferences or that MBA.

Check out the tax rolls, folks. The mansion/shack was on the tax rolls for $589,000 in 2005. Jack way overpayed in Nov. 2005. I hope the buyer won't make the same mistake. Offer him the $589 grand.

Thanks to Taxnetusa we now know the sale price. The way things are going our boy Jack will be writing a huge check at the closing. How many thousands or tens of thousands did Jack spend on furniture for that shack? Did his pampered and spoiled wife push him into this irresponsible, unaffordable and totally extravagant purchase?

He sure got bad advice at those conferences. I guess Jack is looking to rent something much more affordable that won't show up on the tax rolls as he has many angry reps looking for him and considering lawsuits from what I hear. Remember Jack and Tim Darnell sure thought it was a great idea to sue Dr. Jon Taylor and the Better Business Bureau. The judge dismissed them with a one page decision that Advantage Conferences / Tim Darnell pay all the cost for all the parties and quit wasting our time. We all know Timmy boy and Jacko can't win a suit, so please act quickly before Jack and his cash are gone!

Hi Team,

As some of you know, we applied for Better Business Bureau membership in October of this past year. Their response to us was to take our $375.00 membership fee and post surprisingly erroneous information about our Company. Upon being advised of the posts, we immediately sent the documentation that clearly showed the errors of their posting. To our amazement, they refused to take them down, correct them, or much less apologize for their mistake, establishing a clearly belligerent stance with AC. They offered no contract for enrollment and no explanation of their irresponsible action. We, therefore, are now in the process of litigating against the north Texas chapter (an independent for-profit franchise) on several counts.

Our case is iron-clad and we are well represented.

If you have any instances of a Candidate who saw the posting and decided to not continue the 3 Simple Steps, the President's Interview, or enrollment due to that posting; or if you have a Rep who was intimidated by the posting and decided to pursue other activities, our case will be strengthened by knowing those particulars...If you saved any e-mail messages from one of these scenarios, that would be wonderful.

With that being said, Advantage Conferences is growing at a fantastic rate and the caliber of individuals coming on board is almost beyond my comprehension (though not really). The quality of Reps is exactly what we have prayed for, expected and envisioned; and now humbly accept as God's favor and goodness.

This confrontation with the local agency is our willingness and obligation to stand up to our giants and let them know they can't arbitrarily libel a company based on non-truths. We will have future challenges as well, and we are resolutely equipped, with God's merciful hand, to deal with each and every one. I truly thank you for your support and spirit of forward movement. This is truly an amazing company with amazing people. More importantly, God is absolutely in control, and we will prevail (as plaintiffs).

Tim Darnell

Hey, nutbags are you sure about that????????? Oh, please do appeal. And, if you will file a suit against me that would be great. Get your attorneys on here. I can't wait to get you liars in depositions. Discovery with all your shenanigans will be delightful, scammers!

Quote:

Network Marketing and Marketplace Ministry Understand that this is NOT a get rich quick program. There is no such thing. You hold in your hands a solid business plan. Given enough time and consistent effort, Vemma can provide you a substantial stream of income. Your personal level of success will depend on your commitment and persistence.

Network marketing is a profession and you must become a network marketing professional.

Jack, you my boy are nothing but a professional con. Commitment and persistence do not help a pyramid scheme pay plan. Only originators, early entrants and ace recruiters make any money in these plans. I sure wouldn't let Jacko recruit me for this loser either.

Quote:

Thousands of folks have heard me share before that for most of my years in corporate America, I felt like a round peg in a square hole. I was not that passionate about anything. God had given me gifts and talents to succeed in the business world, but quite frankly, it was not very fulfilling for me. My wife and I chose to move 9 times in our first 16 years of marriage and a lot of that was trying to fill a void; take on new challenges, chase the almighty dollar vs. The Almighty. Others fill that void with all sorts of stuff, but having known several multi-millionaires over the years, that stuff and the money did not fill that void. We all need to know our purpose and pursue it with passion.

Please allow me to translate that. God gave him the lack of conscience that allows him to manipulate and use honest, trusting Christian folks.

Jacko, you bought a 6811 sq. ft. home with 5 bedrooms, 4 living areas and a fancy pool for $975,000. He is driving around in a $140,000 Hummer H1. Now, are we really supposed to believe that he isn't chasing the almighty $$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$$? Jack's passion is obviously rooking people out of their life savings. He is Tim's right hand man and knows that at least 98% of the reps in Advantage Conferences lose all their money yet he is still pushing that titanic with gusto.

Quote:

I was never called to full-time ministry, or at least what I thought was ministry. About 2 years ago, the Lord opened my eyes that the marketplace was our ministry. I sincerely had a peace that this was God's direction for our lives. For us, this business is a marketplace ministry. We have directly and indirectly have been able to witness to thousands of people over the phone, email, and in person over the past two years. For me, serving, equipping and reaching others is something we are all called to do whether you were attracted simply to the business model at first, or not. I know I was primarily looking at the business when I got started as I had walked away from a large corporate income and so called security in corporate America.

Folks don't need to pay Advantage Conferneces 10 grand and line Jack's pockets with 7 of that. One should go to their local parrish. Business should be run with honesty and integrity and religion should never be used a recruiting tool.

Quote:

I also realized that everything begins with your thought life and I have had incredible mentoring in the area of having a Christian Millionaire Mindset over the past two years. It ALL begins with your thought life and the words you speak and think on. We all make choices every day.

Success is a choice . It begins so long before the checks begin. Failure is also a choice. When you understand God's promises for your life as a Believer, the purpose of wealth and the lives we are impacting with this business, there is nothing that can stand in your way for very long.

That Christian Millionaire Mindset is simply hogwash. Income is determined to a large degree by one's education, experience, training, determination and intelligence. AC did not teach you any skills that you are applying to a legitimate businesss. You, jacko are just selling more conferences to defraud folks out of thousands knowing they will lose it all.

You, Jack keep repeating this hogwash like folks have any chance of making a dime in MLM. Dishonest goons like you and pyramid scheme compensation plans doom the vast majority of reps.

Quote:

OK, maybe I am the only one that has ever dealt with some of these limited thoughts, well, here are 5 key ones that most of us deal with at various times.

1. The first thought of defeat: You Can't Do It. The root that empowers: Philippians 4:13: I can do all things through Christ that strengthens me; I CAN DO IT!

2. Second thought: You Have the Wrong Motive. The thought comes to you ‘You just want to be blessed because you’re selfish. Who do you think you are? God says He wants me blessed! God calls me blessed, so that I can be a blessing.

You, Jack, have proven your motives to be selfish greed. God didn't bless you, boy! You just profited on the losses of hundreds of millionaire wannabees and reps desperate to earn a living.
Quote:

3. Third thought: You’re not worthy –you don’t deserve to be blessed. Look at all the mistakes you made; you don’t deserve it. You say, I’m not worthy through my works; I am worthy through the BLOOD of Jesus. I do deserve it (not through my works) but through grace and because God is a good God.

4. Fourth thought: It’s not going to happen for you. It doesn’t work for everybody – You say, you shut up devil, He did it for Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, and so He’s got to do it for me. God is no respecter of persons and He says whosoever believes shall have what they say, and I’m one of those whosoever who believes!

5. The Fifth thought: It’s Too Late. You can’t recover. Look at how much ground you’ve lost. Everybody is ahead of you. BALONEY. You say NO! In Jesus’ Name He that began a good work in me is faithful to complete it! Jesus is the author and finisher of my faith. It wasn’t too late for Abraham, Peter, Sarah, or Rahab the harlot. We’re not too discouraged, too broken, or too sick to be healed. BUT JESUS can take every sickness, financial problem or negative situation and restore it.

Yes, just get more education, training, experience or a part-time job and you will do much better than hooking up with scammer, Jack.

Quote:

It also always important that you discern what just sounds good and what God has to say about it. If you have a check in your spirit about something that does not line up with the Word, check it out. It is not about denomination folks, in fact we, as Believers, need to stop judging other denominations that may think or do some things differently. Salvation and the Word should be our focus. It’s about understanding what God’s promises are for your life and a personal relationship we can have through Christ. We are all at a huge buffet, but we have to get up from our butts, get in line—OR just stop using our BUTs; I have no time; but I have no money; but, but, but. We all have big butts!

Jack, you take The Word and twist it to your own advantage all the time. Again, Jack is not an ordained minister and he has no theological background. He is only using religion as a tool to con you. Please go to your local parrish and discuss these matters with someone qualified to inform, instruct and advise you.

Re: Watch Out for 7KAdvantage/Jack Weinzierl is an EVIL Rat! Liar and Scammer!

Quote:

Business is booming....

Many people have made fortunes in network marketing business opportunities, also called multi-level marketing or MLM . The failure rate in network marketing is high, but very comparable with the real estate and insurance industries. Another reason for the high failure rate is all the opportunities that advertise no selling and no recruiting, giving people the impression it's a get rich quick, do nothing hobby vs. a true business model that requires personal growth and development. I also believe the failure rate coincides with the lack of integrity that is so prevalent in the marketplace. False representations, wild exaggerated claims, ...that attract distributors for the wrong, short term reasons, are all contributors. The good news is organizations like the DSA and entrepreneurs like you and I are focused on building this wonderful industry on a solid foundation of trust and integrity.

Jack, you are one to be talking of integrity. Advantage Conferences asked folks to sign up to make 100 grand to 1 million a year on the original signup sheet. It now says 100 grand to 500 grand. You are approaching 1 million after more than 2 years, but 98% have lost money. The losses are a staggering 20 grand for many. Your own site still says "Our goal is for you to make $7,000.00 over and over again and a minimum of $100,000 in income over the next year - with a realistic potential to make much, much more."

Other industries do not boast the 98-99% loss rate of MLM.

Quote:

Not much has changed over the years in the network marketing industry. I personally believe it is one of the most rewarding and empowering professions for those who treat it as a business....

For those willing to run the race and pay the price, statistics have shown that most of the distributors that have stayed in this industry for 10+ years, achieved a level of residual income beyond their wildest dreams. Yet most people will quit before the even get started. Many quit on the 5 yard line.

"Remember, most people fail not because they do the wrong things, but because they don't do the RIGHT things long enough."

So why do they fail? A lot has to do with the promise of something for nothing. You will find businesses and individuals telling you that their web site systems will do all the marketing, advertising, prospecting and recruiting, and that no sales are required.

Distributors also share in this failure by lack of action, commitment and realizing this is a long-term sales business.

The originators, early entrants and ace recruiters are the only ones that make money. The vast majority lose. It is not a long term business by any means. Many of these opportunities aren't around anywhere near that long. Look at the number of fly by night losing deals you and Tim Darnell have been in. <http://www.scam.com/showpost.php?p=3...postcount=2013>

Quote:

Home Business - What You Will Be Doing

You must be able to commit to work your business 5-10 flexible hours a week.

You must be expecting to make at least $100,000.00 or more your first year.

You must have a very positive attitude and have high ethical standards.

You must be a team player.

You must agree to follow the business system, be coachable and trainable and not re-invent the wheel.

You must be self motivated and work consistently from your home without a boss looking over your shoulder.

What you will NOT be doing with your online business

You will not be making any presentations.

You will do no selling, calling, explaining or persuading.

You will not be doing home business parties.

You will not be required to make any monthly purchases.

You won't be required to constantly attend hotel meetings.

By your definition above, Jacko, AC is a scam. Please read what is in red! What about that $10,000 bogus conference purchase? AC did tell the reps no selling, but then the dishonest goons hound the reps to hit up friends and family.

Quote:

So what does it really take to become successful?

It takes commitment and determination in both building and marketing your business. Network

Marketing training and mentoring is vitally important to your success.... Another key to your success is finding the right mentor; ...Probably the most important ingredient for your ultimate success is in network marketing training and mentoring. Developing your marketing and sales skills is essential in direct selling and I, along with our team leaders, “walk the talk.” ...

Leveraging independent distributors reduces a company’s advertising costs! Word of mouth advertising is still the most effective and most powerful form of communication today in reaching new customers.

Your mentoring is a joke. What training does it take to con one's family and friends? Word of mouth advertising you said, so why would I need a marketing budget? You spent $8000 initially with AC. Hundreds of other reps have lost huge amounts like that advertising this bum deal.
Quote:

...In a traditional business you have lots of overhead, employees, health insurance for your employees, office rent and the list goes on and on.

Non-traditional businesses are generally worked from a home office. In today's high fuel prices one can save up to several hundred dollars a month in just fuel costs by not having to commute to a JOB. In addition, there are tremendous tax benefits for those who itemize....

<http://www.armydiller.com/financial-scam/ic.htm>

Quote:

In Network Marketing we help and assist others in building their business...We get paid for this because we are assisting, coaching and helping them to establish their business.

...Where most network marketers fail is they feel that they don't need a marketing budget for advertising and they don't seek out the education required to succeed...Your success or failure is dependent upon you and your actions.

Your primary task will be to gathering customers for your products or services and to help and assist others get started in their own business partnered with you. You are looking at a business model that will take 3 to 5 years to produce the kind of results that you’re looking for. So, don’t give up your day job just yet. It will require 5 to 20 hours of consistent time and effort each week to build a successful Network Marketing Business. It will require a marketing budget...this is a real business, not a get rich quick scheme.

Again, you said word of mouth. Why are AC folks out thousands for advertising that didn't work?

We should take another look at Advantage Conferences numbers. If we give each rep 15 sales ($105,000) and then tell the reps that have made the 100 grand promised they must quit 300 reps need 4500 reps/conference ticket sales (remember you have no retail sales). Those 4500 new reps need (x15) 67,500.....1,012,500.....15,187,500.....227,812,500
.....3,417,187,500.....51,257,812,500.....Jack your scam is unsustainable!

Quote:

What do you look for in a network marketing company?

Integrity

Does the company have it? Do they stand behind their products or services and it's distributors.

Does the company make its decisions with the representative in mind or the company in mind?
...If you are passionate about your product, people will be attracted to your business.

Tim and Jack are out to line their own pockets.

Quote:

Does it have a Duplicative Business System?

This is vitally important but is missing in a lot of network marketing companies. Do they leave it up to you? Look for a company, a team and a sponsor that has a system in place that you can use day one in your network marketing business.

Good management is a must in this business. What is their experience? Most of the companies in this industry will not be around in 3-5 years.... These companies contribute to the high failure rate in this business.

AC a shining example of this!

Quote:

Compensation plans in network marketing / MLM vary...They are at best difficult to understand for both you and the person introducing them to you...

When choosing a network marketing opportunity, a training program is very important to your success. Most companies offer some form of training, most of this training is focused on the products and services of the company.

Quote:

OK, So what's next in getting started?

First, we must become educated about this business. How can you make an informed decision without the necessary education that will allow you to know if a particular opportunity or sponsor is right for you?

Second, be wary of income claims of $10,000 or more a month in only 3 months. This is a long-term, real business.

..Most people freeze up at this point in time; I'll do it tomorrow or next week. Procrastination is one of the biggest obstacles to overcome...Time is such a precious commodity that really cannot be wasted. We have all know how compounded interest works with money, building your business also works on the same principle. It starts slow at first and then gains momentum as our skills and education grow.

...if you've been doing your homework or due diligence, you should be comfortable. Give me a call and I will assist you through the signup process. It's quick, simple and painless.

Re: Watch Out for 7KAdvantage/Jack Weinzierl is an EVIL Rat! Liar and Scammer!

Did anyone noticed the top story in the Dallas Morning News today? Does Mr. James Ray Phipps remind you of anyone???

Pyramid scheme suspect on trial

08:10 AM CDT on Friday, April 27, 2007

By ERIC TORBENSON / The Dallas Morning News

etorbenson@dallasnews.com

Steven Caver greeted James Ray Phipps as an old acquaintance in federal court this week, shaking his hand, smiling and inquiring about Mr. Phipps' well-being.

Mr. Caver, a retired U.S. Postal Service inspector, is well-acquainted with Mr. Phipps, having chased him across the country and battled in court for 20 years to shut down his mass mailings.

James Ray Phipps' attorney says the defendant was simply 'trying to live the American dream.' Federal prosecutors allege that Mr. Phipps swindled millions of dollars from thousands of people over 20 years through a series of pyramid schemes, including a program called "Life Without Debt" that he ran out of his Colleyville home from 1996 to 2001, according to a 22-count indictment alleging mail fraud, money laundering and tax evasion.

Mr. Phipps' trial on the charges began Monday in federal court in Dallas.

"We're on a first-name basis," Mr. Caver testified, noting that he'd once attended a multilevel-marketing conference where Mr. Phipps had introduced him gleefully to others as "the son of a ... [gun] who put me out of business."

Mr. Caver testified that he helped the post office win a series of injunctions and cease-and-desist orders against Mr. Phipps, which the defendant flaunted over two decades by reinventing his pyramid schemes under new names. Mr. Phipps even sued the Postal Service in 2006, alleging that Mr. Caver and other investigators violated his civil rights by trying to stop his use of the mails.

Officials say it's difficult to stop such pyramid schemes, which mask themselves as legitimate multilevel-marketing businesses. The schemes spread through friends and family, and victims often won't talk to investigators when the pyramid collapses.

"One of the problems with tracking them is that victims often refuse to acknowledge they've been had," said Susan Grant, director of the fraud center for the National Consumers League in Washington. "We hear of victims who turn on prosecutors because they think they're denying them their chance at more money."

The federal charges are the first Mr. Phipps has faced after plying his trade for two decades.

Fine lines of legality

"Most of these schemes are not being prosecuted and are proliferating tremendously," said Robert FitzPatrick, a lawyer and pyramid scheme expert in Charlotte, N.C., who helps identify the scams at his Web site, www.pyramidscheme alert.org.

"Texas is a haven for them" because of laws favorable to multilevel-marketers, said Mr. FitzPatrick, who said he helped defend the Better Business Bureau against Mr. Phipps' legal threats after the organization passed on complaints about his businesses. Many multilevel-marketing businesses walk a fine line of legality, Mr. FitzPatrick said. One of the fastest-growing such companies – Usana Health Sciences of Salt Lake City, which reported more than $374 million in sales of health products last year – faces a Securities and Exchange Commission inquiry into whether it is actually a pyramid scam.

The company vigorously denies it.

Pyramid schemes pushed on the Internet actually are declining in frequency, according to the National Consumers League. Multilevel-marketing scams ranked No. 24 out of 38 fraud types last year, having fallen out of the top 10 early this decade.

Today, investors can easily use the Internet to investigate potential scams, Mr. FitzPatrick said. "In some ways the Internet has enabled the victims, though there's still a ton of disinformation out there," he said.

Mr. Phipps faces federal charges "only because he's a rogue" who attracted too much attention to himself, Mr. FitzPatrick said.

A candidate for president in 2000 and governor of Alabama in 2006, Mr. Phipps gained notoriety through anti-government writings that argued "taxes are voluntary (unless you volunteer)." He said the Uniform Commercial Code let him avoid income taxes, and he declared himself a "sovereign citizen" unaffected by U.S. laws.

The IRS disagreed, saying Mr. Phipps earned hundreds of thousands of dollars in the late 1990s and $2 million in 2000 alone and had not filed a return since 1987. By not keeping bank accounts and dealing strictly in cash, he avoided creating records that would make his income obvious, the indictment alleges.

Dreaming or duping?

In the "Life Without Debt" program, mailings and members enticed people to send Mr. Phipps $2,000 in cash or money orders. They'd receive Mr. Phipps' books and tapes and be asked to recruit two more participants to send $2,000 each. The payments were redistributed "up" the pyramid, and members were told they'd receive up to $122,400 "with minimum effort and absolutely no risk."

Special Assistant U.S. Attorney Stephen Booker said the scam enticed 20,000 people to send Mr. Phipps $21 million from June 1996 to August 2001. Mr. Phipps took a 4 percent handling fee to redistribute cash along the pyramid and also falsified 15 identities within the pyramids to take large commissions from participants, 90 percent of whom lost money, prosecutors said.

Mr. Phipps, 59, declined to discuss the charges through his attorney, Carlton McLarty, who argued in his opening statement Monday that Mr. Phipps was simply "trying to live the American dream."

The network marketing businesses were legal because Mr. Phipps was selling a product – financial advice through tapes and reading materials – much like companies such as Amway and Mary Kay, Mr. McLarty said.

Mr. Phipps, who described himself in mailings as an "eccentric millionaire" and also "Mr. Integrity," previously ran programs called "Fast Cash" and "Paymaster" with a similar structure, prosecutors said in court.

He also faces racketeering charges in Florida over "Life Without Debt," along with numerous questions and consumer complaints from attorneys general around the country.

Weekly telephone conferences for interested investors helped federal officials build their case against Mr. Phipps.

"And if it's a pyramid, so what?" he told listeners on the calls, according to the indictment. "At least I have sense enough to turn that sucker upside down and use it as a funnel."

The trial is expected to conclude in early May.

Today is my 40th birthday and I have a gift for you!

Wednesday, April 4, 2007 at 01:35PM

Today is my 40th birthday. I praise the Lord for His wisdom and I look forward to His overflow in this new decade. Not so I could hold tightly to it, but so it can flow through me.

I have been thinking this morning about how I can give all of my candidates a gift on my birthday. Here is what I am led to share. If you are a candidate and have completed the 3 Simple Steps at <http://OneOasis.com> and you are serious about serving others in this highly purposed business, I want to mentor you.

For those getting their MMC-IV President Package paperwork in by next Friday, April 13th (no exceptions please), I will commit the following:

- 1) I will contribute $1,000 to a ministry building fund that is changing lives in the Detroit area. My goal is to raise another $40,000.00 for that project.
- 2) I will fly you in for the June Mindset Mentoring Conference in Dallas. I will cover your airfare up to $400.00.
- 3) I will personally mentor you for many years to come.

Once again, you will need your President's approval and to get your MMC-IV purchase in by Friday, April 13th latest. I cannot make exceptions for this date. Please email me if you need the MMC order and enrollment forms.

Have a blessed Resurrection day. The ultimate gift and sacrifice dwarfs anything we could ever imagine. He is Risen. Thank you Jesus.

Tim Darnel and Jack Weinzierl,

PLEASE COME ON SCAM.COM and debate us. Let the public and your customers be the judge. The fact of the matter is, is that it is your former customers/AC reps whom have come here (With the exception of a few).

You ought to "pin" this thread up at the top as well.

Jack,

It is funny to me that you call scam.com a "Negative Posting" site.

Yes, Scams are very negative to society and those they hurt!

To scammers, this site must seem very negative.

I think it is VERY positive to warn consumers about scams and let them make their own best judgement.

Do you feel the court of law is a court of negativity because you lost in court? I am sure you guys just accused the Judge and the BBB of being non-Christians and negative people right?

The scammer has a contract on his home. Now, we can play find the scammer. Where are you going to go, Jacko? Are you going to skedaddle out of Texas before those angry reps get their hands on you? How big of a check will you have to write to get out?

Those bogus conferences that Tim has been involved in for years sure are of no benefit. You sold a 550 grand 3559 square foot mansion as your greed and evil wife drew you to this house you are now unloading. You were in each home only 1&1/2 years. Why is it with all those multi-millionaire mentors you can't hang on to a $975,000 home? Did you not take enough notes at the scamferences?

One can usually multiply their income by 2-3 and get a reasonable idea of what kind of house they can afford. If you were making the money you bragged of that house should be well below what you can easily afford. So, the scam is going straight down the toilet and/or you want to get out of dodge before the reps filing lawsuits and/or authorities catch up with you?

I guess Tim can continue his prison ministry while you scammers spend some quality time together! I would be worried that the lack of retail conference sales and earnings teasers promising 100 grand to 500 grand might get one prosecuted for misrepresentation and fraud. Be careful, Jack!

After researching many home based business opportunities, I have found one that stands out from all the rest. They have an amazing product that everyone can benefit from, with no storage or shipping of any kind. Their compensation plan is great, $1,000 per transaction, and you don't have an up line that you have to share with! This company has a simple, easy to use process with great support and training available. With this opportunity, I was able to continue being an at home mom, and provide a great income for my family. If you interested in learning more about this opportunity, visit my website at www.path2prosperity.info.

The team of online entrepreneurs that I was introduced to, are some of the most compassionate, caring people I have ever come into contact with personally or professionally. They allowed me to take a complete look at this business without any pressure or hype what so ever.

I hope his church will see what shenanigans he is up to and see to it he never has a class to teach or a leadership position again.

The only place he wants funds is in his own greedy hands and pockets. Geez we can see what sleaze he hangs out with as Jack is his right hand man.

I recently spent 9 hours at a conference called Releasing the Joseph Factor in your business. How many know that Joseph had some Radical Favor? How many of you could use that radical favor in your businesses and in your lives? We can walk in that radical favor. Surround yourself with people walking in that favor.

Favor is not "me" focused, it is for His glory. Every thing you and I do is an opportunity to give glory to Him.

I am so thankful for Advantage Conferences as we recently celebrated our 2 year anniversary with AC. We have already earned commissions surpassing $800,000, but equally important is the growth that I have seen in me and our team members. I am totally expectant that we will double those earnings to date in 2007 with the enhanced President's Package product offering, as well as the improved and simplified 3 Simple Steps. I want to thank Tim Darnell for providing this marketplace ministry, powerful mentoring and financial vehicle to each of us.

I had several of my team members write a quick note as I believe it is important that you know who you will be building a long-term business with. You can view those recommendations at:

<http://www.advantage-conferences-tra...commendations/>

Lastly, many of you have already submitted your President's Interview. That takes about 30 minutes. You will hear back from the corporate office within one business day.

Have a blessed week.

Jacko,

Boy, you have made $800,000 in well over two years, but there is no way in H&!! you are going to double that by the end if 2007. You have only 13 rooms booked for your silly little scamference. That means many of those are filled with families or couples and a few rooms may have two reps sharing a room. So, we have maybe 16 reps coming so far. You also have only 34 rooms reserved total. You would need 115 MMC IV sales to make that 800 grand this year, loser.

I can't believe Tim told people to do whatever was necessary to get the 10 grand and you charged 18 grand on your credit card. Hundreds of reps have had their lives destroyed and you have the nerve to continue to lie like that and tout earnings that will never happen. You will be lucky to make ten percent of that you goon. And whatever you do make will be at the expense of folks who line your pockets and lose around 20 grand to this scam.

If you crazy goons still had 300 reps shouldn't there be at least 250 rooms reserved so all the families and couples could have their own room and some of the single reps could share. That means with a 90% discount/$1000 ticket and free spouse ticket for current reps they still won't waste the money to attend your joke of a conference. There are obviously almost no sales either. 13 rooms is beyond pathetic.

If you were going to make that 800 grand this year you wouldn't be having that fire sale on your grand mansion either. I agree that Jim Striegel is laughing hard all the way to the bank. The conference speaker who said he was paid and not donating his time sold you the house for almost 400 grand more than it was on the tax rolls for and now that you are lying your way to bankruptcy he is selling your house for a nice 50 grand + commission. That is pretty darn funny, boy!

That's about $368,000 per MONTH for a grand total of $4,416,000 MILLION a YEAR!

So, why did he quit that gig to work for AC??? :rolleyes:
