Buffulobob,

The purpose of scam.com is for people to come on and tell about their experiences regarding certain "perceived scams". People can come on scam.com and have a healthy debate and consumers can judge for themselves.

Not to come on, cuss and act like a elementary school kid and post info that has zero to do with the topic of the thread.

Hey Buf,

I have squarely attacked only the originator, Timmy boy and the heaviest hitter in this scam-- the dishonest Wacko Jacko, who posted on here under the name SoapBoxDad. The vast majority of reps can only be labeled unfortunate victims of this scam. I have never characterized them otherwise.

I am simply trying to keep other folks from being burned by this scheme. I have made every effort to see folks have the information needed to make an informed decision. Why don't you boneheads supporting this venture come on here with some facts and information that would prove this bum deal to be anything other than the scam many of us know it to be.

yeah buffler, nothing like some reasoned argument, backed by some facts.

oh, wait. No facts and no argument.

What a great surprise.

Why does a loser like yourself expose your shortcomings like this? Don't you find it tremendously embarrassing to expose yourself as a complete fool for all to read? I mean, you are probably used to it in your own environment where everyone would understand your shortcomings and cut you some slack - but on the internet it's a different story.

I would suggest you scuttle back to the special ed class before the teacher finds out you are missing.

Ducky Boy,

Good to hear from you.

It's much easier to understand your mumbled unintelligible words when you type, so on behalf of all the intellects - we're grateful we don't have to actually listen to you.

Ah yes...the Internet.

I believe your quote was "....but not on the Interent, it's a different story."

Uh...Earth to Ducky, Earth to Ducky....you with me big boy?

O.K. now press your bi focals good & close to screen and call your tutor 'cause you really need to grasp this concept Einstein:

You're on SCAM FREAKING DOT COM you moron!!

This is make believe land.

This where entrepreneurship goes to die, the big sess pool full of under achieveing whiners who blame everyone else for their place in life.

Your name is "Ducky" for crying out loud. You'll never give your real name and location just like all the other nit wits in here.

Rightfully so, we would all belly laugh for days at how pitiful your life is while you give "advice" (trying not to laugh) to others.

Same with WishYouKnew the big "insder" of AC. The person who never gave an ounce of energy towrds his AC business and is now crying "poor me."

Yes, the Internet.

You're right Ducky, it's a whole new ball game in here. Be sure to remove your cape with the "S" on it when you leave the forum. Do you wear underoos while you're in here?

If this wasn't actually a real forum it would be hilarious.

Obviously we know that unlucky is making more than 90-99% of the people that fail in MLMS each year... isnt that right??? Can you show some figures to prove us wrong on this thread??? Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

Spanky,

Why do 90-95% of people who get involved in MLM's fail?

I would have to know each scenario. If you can show me an individual who worked their business diligently for 5 years and failed, I would say that would be the first time it has ever happened.

You see Spanky, MLM is not a get rich quick scheme. It requires diligency and consistency. Not, "I didn't make my money back in six months so it doesn't work."

What % of any business people succeed Spanky?

I've owned several businesses and each business plan our team put together showed an average time span of four years till we were in a profit scenario.

What % of sales people go on those lavish quota buster trips fortune 500 companies sponsor? Do you think it's more than 5%?

I could go on and on, but it doesn't matter.

If you have an employee/poverty mindset, you will never get it.

I tithe more in a week to my church than Unlucky earns in that same period.

Think about that for a minute, let it really sink in.

I am financialy free and am helping my local community because I had the courage to stick with a business for more than two weeks.

I'll go back to my first statement.

Find me a person who diligently worked an MLM for five years and was not successful.

You can't.

You people can keep cashing your measely paychecks, selfishly grasping onto to the money you do not even own.

I choose freedom and the blessings that come with it. I choose to be a faithful steward of God's money.

If you want to keep bashing MLM's, I'll be here to defend them.

MLM's aren't failures. People who quit on their business are the real failures.

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

MLM fail because that is how they are structured: only the top levels make real money. The venom spewed out by Bob and his ilk is typical of what I have received from AC reps when exposing their deceptions (Dream stealer, etc.). These are angry and ruthless thieves who masquerade as "christian" business men. They are thieves who know that the Christian market is a goldmine to be tapped by their schemes.

I know that forums such as scam.com hurt the "business" of organizations such as AC. That is why you have a Bob suddenly show up. His purpose is to cause a reaction to discredit the legitimate questions raised in the forum. The characterization of AC critics as "living from paycheck to paycheck" is fairly common in the AC defense. People like Bob aren't really talking to people posting in this forum. They are trying to discourage visitors to this forum from taking the criticisms of AC seriously.

People are looking for information on AC. See this forum as well:

http://www.work-at-home-forum.com/14_744_0.html

Bob could be any one of the handful of AC Reps that may be making "some" money. He could be Tim (I doubt it) or Jack (most likely) or Sam (sounds like his style - but I hear he is struggling and may not be long for AC-he is one of Jack's "millionaire makers"). Whoever he/she is really doesn't matter. Bob is here for a purpose-to distract from the fact that AC is a SCAM! Take that to the bank and Defend Your Dreams by not falling prey to AC.

Hi,

My name is Humbled By Disgrace.

I pretend to know about MLM. I'll never tell you my true identity because then I would expose myself as someone who

a) Has never been in MLM

b) Has never owned a business

c) (and this is the most likely scenario) I am a complete failure and need to make sure nobody around me succeeds. I live paycheck to paycheck and give less to my church/charity than anyone I know.

d) All of the above

You're a pathetic loser like everyone else in scum.com.

Remember everyone: This is make believe land. This is the virtual fantasy land where all you need is a username and password to give advice.

I love it.

Only on scum.com can you find an arrogant ass like HB DisGrace giving his advice that has earned him nothing in life.

What's your name Humbled?

How have you amassed your wealth Humbled?

"Uh, this sounds like Tim

No maybe Jack

Or Sam..."

TO all Christian Businessmen,

For you Christian brothers who are here researching AC because you have heard it is a Christian business opportunity, you can see and read what its defenders are saying. The tone speaks for itself.

From a business perspective, why would these defenders spend their time here spewing their venom. Success speaks for itself; it doesn't need to attack its critics.

I have no particular ax to grind except to speak out against those who target Christian as "marks" for bad business schemes. Do not follow these false prophets.

"Again, the kingdom of heaven is like a merchant looking for fine pearls." Matthew 13:45

"Do not give dogs what is sacred; do not throw your pearls to pigs. If you do, they may trample them under their feet, and then turn and tear you to pieces." Matthew 7:6

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

Skeptic Al,

The approach taken by Humbledbygrace2 is fairly typical of the attacks in defense of AC. Attempts to discredit criticism of AC by "trying" to discredit the messenger. The assumption is always the same: That anyone questioning the AC business model must be unsuccessful (or why would they be looking at the option to begin with) and living from paycheck to paycheck.

And that serious Christians (as I am) must be crazy, etc. In fact, I am a successful businessman. I know what works and what doesn't. The business model promoted by AC works only for a few (by design, not by practice).

"Brace yourself like a man;
I will question you,
and you shall answer me.

Would you discredit my justice?
Would you condemn me to justify yourself?

Do you have an arm like God's,
and can your voice thunder like his?"

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

From the report on file at the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Dallas, Inc.
<http://www.dallas.bbb.org/> :

"Based on BBB files, this company previously had an unsatisfactory record with the Bureau due to failure to discontinue advertising claims. Specifically, on portions of its Web site the company used the term 'copyright' and the symbol for 'trademark' with the name 'Millionaire Mindset Conference Income Producing System'. However, the company stated the name was in fact not copyrighted or trademarked. The company has recently modified its claims. On November 4, 2005 Bureau staff reviewed the site and confirmed the change had been made.

Tim Darnell, president of Advantage Conferences, is identified in Bureau records as the president of All Star Entrepreneur, LLC, 1513 Home Park Dr., Allen, TX. which is out of business. A separate report is available on All Star Entrepreneur, LLC.

In October, 2005, the Bureau contacted the company regarding the use on its Web site of the term 'copyright' and the 'trademark' symbol with the name 'Millionaire Mindset Conference Income Producing System'. The company acknowledged that 'Millionaire Mindset Conference Income Producing System' is not trademarked or copyrighted, and agreed to modify those claims on its Web site.

In October, 2005 the Bureau asked the company for substantiation of the earnings claims made on its Web site, for example, '$7,000.00 Over and Over and Over Again'. The company has provided information, which the BBB is reviewing.

In October of 2005, the Bureau questioned the company as to whether its marketing program is a pyramid. The company has provided information which the BBB is reviewing."

At least someone is looking into the company. We will see what happens.

Predator's site (aptly named): <http://predatormarketingsystem.com/1451/>
