Obviously not everyone is ignoring the posts if one of your team members sent it to you.
:confused: It is good to know that your team is reading these posts - I guess that is why only 13 are attending the conference.

Jacko, boy I challenged you to come on here and provide us with some facts my boy! Let's have some! If you thought my invitation was nasty you really are a completely b@!!!e$$ wonder. You are afraid to debate a housewife? Shocking!

Don't play dumb with us. We know you posted on here under 5 different screen names and told a number of lies, though it was funny to see you constantly extol your own so called virtues, lad. So, I have no doubt you read us regularly as you did before when you posted long diatribes filled with AC scam speak on numerous threads daily.

If there are facts to refute what is said here then by all means present them. Explain to us how you are affording said mansion and its replacement with Advantage Conferences obviously sinking like the Titanic. Explain the mass exodus of reps since the court decision and your personal adventures came to light. Why are many of the biggest promoters jumping ship? Why are so few attending the Dallas conference? Those numbers are easily confirmed with a call to the hotel. Would you care to update us or must I do all the fact finding?

We are so glad to hear you set the closing so that you could attend. Now explain why in Texas you paid over 2 times (209%) what your mansion was on the tax rolls for? No one around here even in the boom years that had any sense paid more than 10-20 % over what a property was on the rolls for. You obviously way overpaid as it is listed for far less--235 grand less-- than you paid after a year and a half. LOL! Jim Striegel will pocket almost 60 grand plus there are many other costs associated with closing. 1.23 million paid and sold for probably far less than the asking price of 995 grand spells mental midget, Jack, or in more exact English a bloodbath!

Best case Mr. MBA, frequent MMC attendee and brilliant businessman, you are out at least 300 grand and probably much more. Business acumen out the wazoo, huh!

You are totally financially irresponsible. Fiscal responsibility is the first thing I would look for in a mentor. Someone who claims he was in disgust with his finances isn't going to solve that problem by moving every year and a half. The closing costs on both ends are substantial. At least Jim Striegel can enjoy your folly.

Now I speculated that the bank was about to get your house, but my dear boy, unlike you and your friend Timmy some of us here can do math. Your own blog and inane statements here tell us what your financial situation is and there is no way without AC expanding to those thousands you claim will join that you could possibly maintain the lifestyle you have established. Over 800 grand in more than two years and sales almost nonexistent now won't pay your bills. I see a whopping 191 reps, probably almost all of them in your yahoo group. That membership has dropped astronomically, huh lad?

Be blessed SBM and I encourage everyone to subscribe to my Blog. And SBM, still hiding behind a screen name I see.

There have been hundreds of post since you last spewed a silly long rant. Why are you not on the threads addressing any real issues? You knew you lied when you said Tom couldn't post here. You knew full well no posters here are paid. Everything about you, Tim and AC is a complete sham.

If your new house is so fabulous then do change your phone number to a listed one, share your address and please post the photos. I will find it the minute it hits the tax rolls, so you can't hide it for long. It seems you, Jack, are trying to hide as well. Why is that?

You are quite amusing you little buffoon. You go on about the lies, but never come with any real facts. The closing date on your house is so inconsequential. You just had all the reps out to your house after the last conference and poor dear Claudia gushed about having a dream house like that. Too bad you won't be able to dangle that carrot in front of the recruits anymore.

Quote:

Tom Kelley, a spokesman for the Texas Attorney General's office, says the Texas anti-pyramid statute is clear: if there's more emphasis and energy on recruiting people rather than selling a product or service, there's a problem.

According to the statute, a pyramid scheme is "a plan or operation by which a person gives consideration for the opportunity to receive compensation that is derived primarily from a person's introductions of other persons to participate in the plan..."

You boys have no retail conference sales. AC is still nothing more than a recruiting scheme with a bogus conference used as a fig leaf to disguise the ten grand price to join the money making scheme.

Soon enough you will know my identity. When this egregious scam is finally shut down and no more can be defrauded out of ten grand I will make sure you know the identity the little housewife that took you down, unless of course, you boys do have the spheres to sue. I told you exactly what to do if that was the case. I would be most pleased to see you goofballs in depositions and enjoy discovery opening up all your records so I can share them with the public. I have no problem spending some money if it will save others from losing around 20 grand to your scam.

We scambusters are all still waiting for you to appeal the Texas judge that laughed you out of the courtroom. You didn't even go to trial. The judge gave the Better Business Bureau and our friend Dr. Jon Taylor a decisive victory and left Timmy boy to pay all the cost for all the parties dragged in that frivolous and completely ridiculous lawsuit. Has God spoken about why Timmy was told Advantage Conferences would prevail in court and then God stabbed him in the back?

<http://www.scam.com/showpost.php?p=2...postcount=1793>

Perhaps that link will refresh your memory. I am sure your reps are waiting for you boys to explain that! Good thing the bad weather will keep you inside today, lad. You have a lot of issues to address here and we will all be anxiously waiting! At least you were good for a little amusement today! And, yes, I join you in thanking those who protect our country and pray for all of them and their families.

You are the buffoon here. You have such an aversion to wealth and cannot fathom living in abundance. It is so obvious to anyone reading this, except for your bashing friends.

We are so glad to hear you set the closing so that you could attend. Now explain why in Texas you paid over 2 times (209%) what your mansion was on the tax rolls for? No one around here even in the boom years that had any sense paid more than 10-20 % over what a property was on the rolls for.

Oh really, now you are a Real Estate Expert? I have made over $100,000 on real estate in the past 2 years here in Texas, but you are the expert. We bought our house for less than the $999K it was sold for. So once again, you are wrong. The tax roles reflected the value before a $350K addition and renovation. You are really a sad character.

You obviously way overpaid as it is listed for far less--235 grand less-- than you paid after a year and a half. LOL!

If you look at the sales, you will see what I paid for this house 19 months ago. It was a good investment and was a blessing to many people.

Jim Striegel will pocket almost 60 grand plus there are many other costs associated with closing. 1.23 million paid and sold for probably far less than the asking price of 995 grand spells mental midget, Jack, or in more exact English a bloodbath!

You truly are so misguided and will share any lies in an attempt to bash a company and people. The house sold for a little over asking price actually. No idea where you "created" your 1.23 figure, but that is humorous. We paid in mid $900K for the house and Jim is not making anywhere near 6%. Wrong yet again.

Best case Mr. MBA, frequent MMC attendee and brilliant businessman, you are out at least 300 grand and probably much more. Business acumen out the wazoo, huh!

Again, we have earned about $100K in real estate in the past couple years. Your math is almost as bad as your attitude.

You are totally financially irresponsible. Fiscal responsibility is the first thing I would look for in a mentor. Someone who claims he was in disgust with his finances isn't going to solve that problem by moving every year and a half. The closing costs on both ends are substantial. At least Jim Striegel can enjoy your folly.

You would NEVER qualify to be mentored by me. By the way, I probably gave more than you made last year and I know who I serve.

If your new house is so fabulous then do change your phone number to a listed one, share your address and please post the photos. I will find it the minute it hits the tax rolls, so you can't hide it for long. It seems you, Jack, are trying to hide as well. Why is that?

Wow, you act like you have some special skills to access this info. You are sad individual who I believe needs counseling. I look forward to opening up my home to all of our team members. We are blessed to be a blessing. I guess you don't understand that.

Too bad you won't be able to dangle that carrot in front of the recruits anymore.

Dangling? You simply don't get it. It is so obvious.

SBM, I will continue to address the truth and what is good and right on my Blog at my name.com.

Jack, Good, I thought you signed off.

So know that Advantage Conferences lost the BBB court case.. How much did Tim Darnell have to repay the Lawyers for the legal fees that was ordered by the Judge?

Did you get a chance to read the court papers that have been posted on here? Interesting reading my friend. Hard to argue with that evidence don't you think?

Why is Tim no longer selling his insurance scam? What is your opinion of that whole ordeal?

Also regarding your Advantage Conference Blog in which you mention us here on scam dot com...

The truth about negative posting sites
Tuesday, May 1, 2007 at 10:57AM

By coming on here and blogging today you obviously prooved yourself wrong in the fact that, YOU ARE NOT BANNED. You and Tim Darnell BOTH are free to come here and post as you wish!

Do you actually think that I am a paid poster? -- Thats a lie!!

You make a statement about- DUE DILIGENCE Sabotage--

For the most part with the exception of any Real Estate talk. What we have come here with is HARD CORE EVIDENCE. Court papers, etc..

It is sad, because much of the blogs you post is great reading. The only thing is, its not worth $10,000 to read that, recieve your mentoring, or attend a conference. How can you say that Advantage Conferences has a market value of $10,000?

It DOES NOT.

Much of what you are posting is from what you have learned from Books, Bible Study, and Church. There is no doubt about it. It is great stuff. But again it does not have a market value of $10,000 combined with the other so called services that Advantage Conferences offers.

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

Hi Jack,

When you come on here to attempt to "defend" yourself, you just end up looking more guilty. I find it very arrogant of you to say the following:

"You would NEVER qualify to be mentored by me. By the way, I probably gave more than you made last year and I know who I serve."

First of all, a lot of your "team members" have jumped ship when they saw that you had taken their money and thrown them under the bus with VERY LITTLE MENTORING from you! You do not know the first thing about mentoring, much less coaching. Secondly, it's obvious to us that you serve the almighty dollar, not God with the statement you made above. God does not call us to give large amounts, nor does that make you better than anyone else Jack. We are to tithe a minimum of 10%.

Your true colors are showing Jack and I know that you can't stand it. Your anger is coming out as well. You bragged to everyone how you worked with Mike Milken, a CONVICTED CON ARTIST. Undoubtedly this is where you learned to con people...and I'll give it to you...you are good. But the thing about you guys is this: once people get wind of your con game...* hits the fan and the light is shed on darkness...you Jack.

Further, you wrote:

"We did downsize our property as $900 water bills are just not good stewardship. We have built a wonderful home and in fact, it is a substantial sum more than the house we sold, so you are incorrect yet again."

So, Jack, it makes better economic sense to ditch the $900 water bill and spring for an even LARGER one with your new, LARGER, wonderful and substantial home you just built??? LOL...now THAT's funny!!!!!! Like $1200 a month water bill is GOOD STEWARDSHIP?

Lastly, narcissistic and anti-social personality types cannot stand to be called out. They will attack, lie, manipulate, coerce, and destroy anything and anyone in their path. It's obvious to most true Christians and former AC reps on here that they've been "had". Remember Jack, God is ALWAYS watching!!! I ask you this, how many of your family members that you recruited wide are not speaking to you anymore? Please answer this last question for us. ;)

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

Jacko,

I am so glad you came on to ramble about your brilliant investments. I linked all my sources, but as usual you come with no evidence. Westlaw says your price was $1,231,912.00. Taxnetusa gives a sale price of $975,000. You are free to give us the correct figure. I think your foolish frequent home purchases speak directly to your qualifications to mentor your Advantage Conference recruits. I will see that the new shack you brag of is linked on here the minute it is on the tax rolls. "We have built a wonderful home and in fact, it is a substantial sum more than the house we sold."

You have $926,250 in loans according to WestLaw. Are disputing that? That suggest to the savvy that you have got yourself into a lot more house than you can afford. Why would you be moving every 18 months? Do you really expect us to believe that a $900 a month water bill would drive you out of your million $$$$ mansion. For folks that can afford that kind of property that is peanuts, you silly man. Logic dictates your are unable to afford your extravagant purchase. I am sure your kids are not enjoying being constantly shuffled because of your shenanigans.

You can brag about your generosity, but with that $926,000 mortgage, $140,000 Hummer, extravagant furnishings (which since you got more than your asking price may very well have been thrown in the deal at thousands in losses to you), a $500,000 mortgage you had to carry simultaneously for a while, the obvious opulent style of clothing your family chooses and the fact you must fund all your own benefits, I doubt you are donating much at all. Your whole house of cards is crashing down around you as we speak.

"I will not reduce myself to the level you are playing at, period," proclaimed Jack. You come completely bereft of any facts. You have yet to intelligently discuss Advantage Conferences. Remember the math, boy.

200 recruits need 2 training then 15 sales to make the 100 grand you set as their goal with the potential to make much more. $200 \times 15 = 3000$ reps (remember you have no retail sales) $3000 \times 15 = 4500$ 675,000.....1,012,500...151,875,000....2,278, 125,000.....

"You have such an aversion to wealth and cannot fathom living in abundance." Jack, you have wealth because you make a living by deceiving and defrauding people. Only 2% of your recruits are making money according to Tim Darnell's own figures. Do you care to present evidence to the contrary? How do you and your evil wife live knowing the destruction in your wake? What are you doing to refund your recruits who have lost their life savings to you? How are you justifying the egregious lies you and Tim tell to mentor folk's money into your bank accounts?

Yes, Jack, as TooLate4Me said and we have always maintained----God is watching and we are waiting for answers. When are you buffoons going to sue me? I want to get you in depositions and enjoy investigating all the company records in the discovery process. Just think of the facts I could present to our viewing public. Got the spheres to do it, lad?

Jack Weinzierl, lad, I am going to express my opinion and speculate. As of May 7th you had only 13 hotel rooms booked for your scamference. I take it you don't care to update those numbers for us. The scambusters are the only ones with facts around this board and I can't get an updated figure until normal business hours.

You still probably have only a handful of tickets sold. Jack you would have been the most likely recipient of the $7000 and Tim/AC gets the $3000 left over. With a grand total of a laughable 34 rooms set aside for AC on Friday night we can see what a losing deal this is. You have just over a third reserved at last call to the hotel. Let's suppose you boys found 10 unsuspecting good, trusting Christians. Tim has to pay out $12,000 to the six speakers, pay himself and 3 office people with that theoretical $30,000 he has garnered since the last conference in October 2006. Jack, you would have made $70,000 in this scenario.

Tim can't afford to put on the conference nor can he come up with the cash to refund all the folks that spent between 1 and 10 grand to purchase tickets. You, Jack, after making 40 grand a month average and as high as 95 grand have to be in worse than desperate straights. I think the house selling quickly is the only thing that saved you from bankruptcy. Where are those pictures of the mansion you are constructing? Can't get any photos of your virtual mansion, huh?

You boys said there would be thousands of reps by this time. Exponential growth is the only way Tim can keep this scam afloat and you Jack have a lifestyle that requires you sell at least 5 or 6 of the 10 grand conference tickets a month. The problem is those numbers. 200 reps need (x 15 reps/ sales---no retail sales) 3000 reps need (x 15) 45,000....675,000.....10,125,000.....151,875,000.....22,781,250,000

This assumes there are no retail sales, which has been true according to Tim's Affidavit, and that each rep makes his 100 grand and quits. This is a venture where there is no hope for more than a few to profit. How does it feel to be living a life of luxury while the good folks you have conned struggle to survive with their life savings gone or thousands in debt perhaps on a credit card as you modeled for them. Remember the $18,000 you blew on your Visa, Jack?

AC is continuing to flounder like the Titanic, boys!

Friend, better than we could ask or think

Friend, I received the following from Tim Darnell earlier today before heading off for our worship service. As we finish April, we are finalizing plans for May. I personally have time to coach and mentor 7 new MMC-IVs in the month of May. Please let me know when you are ready so we can get you setup this next week. The next MMC is just a few weeks away and we will sell out, so you will want to get placed asap.

Here is the note from Tim Darnell. Let me know when you have finished all 3 Simple Steps at <http://www.scammersrus.com> and I will forward the President's Interview for you, Friend.

"As the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my ways higher than your ways and my thoughts than your thoughts." Isaiah 55:9

The fourth MMC in the Fall of 2006 was so powerful that it presented a dilemma in my mind. How in the world could we top that? The answer is: we can't, but God can! Our upcoming Mindset Mentoring Conference V in June will top the last conference. Divine appointments have come our way! What is coming together is beyond my abilities, doing, or thinking – praise God, this Conference and the incredible Champions we will be mentored by will be the most powerful yet! Add to that Convention and the KING's Conference preview on Thursday, and we will be experiencing more than we could ever ask for!

Have a fantastic day of worship and I can't wait to see you in Dallas - June 14-17, 2007!!!

Blessings,

Tim Darnell
President
Advantage Conferences

In service,

When Eric wrote this there were only 13 rooms booked at the most. Tim had only reserved 24 for Thursday night and 34 for Friday night out of 421. If folks hadn't booked by May 7th when I called they aren't too anxious to attend. If I had spent 1 - 10 grand I would have booked by then. Eric knew he was lying when he said they would sell out so one must get placed ASAP. These reps will lie, steal and cheat to get you to part with your money. Jack Weinzierl has been coercing people to attend unrelentingly. The conference with only 13 rooms booked on May 7th is sure to be a colossal money losing flop!

Reps,

Demand your refund and file with the Attorney General's office.

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

God has spoken and in His divine wisdom has sent me forth to collect a bountiful harvest. I have spent several days at the courthouse and reviewed several thousands of pages of documents related to the lawsuit that Tim Darnell / Advantage Conferences filed against the Better Business Bureau and Dr. Jon Taylor. I will be scanning in and posting the more pertinent info from said documents.

There is much more than I could have hoped for. Craig Malisow from the Houston Press in the space he had allotted only touched the tip of the iceberg. What our dear friend wserra posted is just a fraction of the words God has led me to.

Just mountains of evidence conclusively shows why the judge decided in the favor of the defendants the BBB. Tim filed this frivolous suit and then he and his lawyers made every effort to keep papers the court ordered be provided to the BBB secret. Scammer Tim did not want anyone to know of his involvement with Liberty League, Global Prosperity, All-Star and the numerous other scams he founded or was intimately involved in.

Tim was forced to hand over all the company records including financial ledgers, the names and sales of all reps in the matrix, all promotional materials, tax records, etc. Of course that was after numerous delays and refusals as Tim neglected to file papers on time and wouldn't agree to arbitration. Tim is the moron of the century for filing that ridiculous suit. I mean everything about this scam is in there.

I intend to put every enlightening piece of information on here as soon as I have it all scanned in. If I were you boys I would cancel that conference and hope the reps can't find you after they read the truth on here. That brainless wonder you hired for an attorney should have advised you never to have filed in the first place. You have given the scambusters and the Attorney General all that will be needed to see your Titanic disappears.

God will see the truth prevails!

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)

I would like to outline briefly just a sampling of the documents in the court record.

Affidavit of Tim Darnell

This is the first of 3 long diatribes of utter nonsense Tim produces.

The Better Business Bureau Report

Supplement to the Deposition of Christopher Burgess

Tim's Power of Two drivell

Tim's Response to the BBB letter requesting documentation of the issues they discovered when processing his applying for membership.

Early Advantage Conferences Ad page

Plaintiff's Motion for Continuance in Response to Defendant's Motion for Summary Judgment

Affidavit of Christopher Burgess

Defendant Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Dallas Inc. Second Amended answer to Plaintiff's Original Petition

Defendant BBB of Metropolitan Dallas Inc's Motion to Compel Production of Documents

Plaintiff's Response to Defendants Request for Production

26 pages of mindless drivell where Tim's lawyer whines that the requests are overly broad and burdensome. AC does everything possible to weasel out of producing the documents the judge ordered them to turn over to the BBB.

Jackson Walker attorneys for the BBB letter asking for the documents they are due yet again

Matirx of the Reps, downlines and earnings

ACs Policies and Procedures

Excerpt from ACs General Ledger

In March 2006 the balance was $52,780.56.

Defendants Third Request for Production to Plaintiffs Advantage Conferences LLC

The BBB attorneys have to quote Texas law to Tim and his buffoon of an attorney.

Numerous documents where the judge and BBB try to arrange arbitration which Tim ignores.

Much more urgent requests for documents

Non-party's Motion for Protective Order

After trying for ages to weasel out of turning over documents the judge ordered sent to the BBB, Tim asks for this to avoid giving the BBB information regarding his involvement with a number of other scams including All- Star, Emerald, Liberty League and Global Prosperity.

Defendants Notice of Intention to Subpeona Records of Non-party Tim Darnell.

Defendant BBB First Amended Answer to Plaintiff's Original Petition Subpeona Duces Tecum (Designation fo Documents or Items to be Produced)

BBB of Metro Dallas Inc's Original Answer

Plaintiff's Original Petition and Application for Injunctive Relief

(Yet another) Affidavit of Tim Darnell

A letter from Jason Ciarochi to the BBB

A letter form Jon Taylor to the scammer's attorney Ciarochi

Defendant BBB Response in Oppostion to Plaintiff's Motion for Continuance

Tim and his brainless wonder of an attorney have a habit of filing things late and not turning over requested documents without a bloody fight. Timmy filed a lawsuit he had no chance of winning and wasn't prepared for in any way shape or form.

Defendant BBB objections to the Affidavit of Tim Darnell

The request for Summary Judgment Motion covers all this.

BBB Reply to ACs Reponse to BBB's Motion for Summary Judgment

Plaintiff's Amended reponse to Defendants Motion for Summary Judgment

Third Affidavit of Tim Darnell

Defendant BBB of Metro Dallas Motion to Exclude Expert Testimony Concerning Damages

Tim Darnell thinks he the expert. Ac failed to document and had no data or basis to back up his claims for damages. At the time of the first BBB posting AC had 250 reps and in Sept 2006 Rosalyn Felty reports 434 reps. How much few we have now.

Plaintiff's Reponse to Defendants Request for Disclosures

Tim Darnell's Videotaped Deposition

He will blather of 10 million in damages from not being able to sell the TFA Hidden Treasures a "conservative estimate" according to a psychotic Darnell.

Defendants BBB Second Motion to Compel Production of Documents

Deposition of Rosalyn Felty Sept. 12 2006

She produces Rep enrollment info.

Defendant BBB of Metro Dallas Motion to Exclude Expert Testimony Regarding Pyramid Schemes

Before you get indignant, the expert they want to exclude is Tim Darnell himself. Tim gives hilarious testimony of his definition of a pyramid scheme.

Defendant BBB motion to Strike Plaintiff's "Outline for Oral Argument"

Plaintiff's Outline for Oral Argument

All 10 individuals whose names he gave to the BBB had at least 4 sales and had made $7000.

Deposition of Michael White

He signed a statement of Nondefamation in order to receive a refund from the boys. He called Tim after reading us here on scam.

Deposition of ~~XXXXXXXXXX~~

Affidavit of Gregg Poffenbarger

Plaintiff's First Amended Original Petition and Application for Injunctive Relief

Defendant BBB Motion to Strike Late Filed Response and Summary Judgment Proof

Plaintiff's Supplement to Their Motion for Continuance

Read we filed a case with no evidence and zero preparation.

The BBB complaint of Kim Tola and records concerning Liberty League and Bioperformance compiled.

I will post quotes from many of these. The files contained Tim's Third Affidavit. You can read that on Scam.com thanks to wserra if my summary on page 51 of this thread was not enough info.

The judges decision and the BBB motion for Summary Judgment are in the judges chamber right now as Tim is up to something it seems. Perhaps he can't pay and is begging the judge for more time. We will soon find out. Those are also summarized on page 51 of this thread and on quatloos.com for those unable to wait. Everything else I referenced is at the records department and I will be quoting from them extensively in the days to come. I had a generous offer to share the copying cost from a scambusting friend, but I want Timmy and Wacko Jacko to know that this is entirely my treat and I am happy to share these documents so all considering this scam will have the resources necessary to make an informed decision and those reps who do want to take action can see just how Timmy fares in court.

From the BBB Motion for Summary Judgement:

The BBB opens with the premise there is no malice in any of its various forms. They rightly state as there was no contract there can be no breach thereof or entitlement to damages for Advantage Conferences/Timmy boy. It is then explained that there is no merit to Tim's claims of negligence on the part of the BBB. The BBB caused no tortious interference with current or future contacts of AC and there is no evidence of any intentional tortious acts. There are also no specific contracts interfered with or damages. So, in a nutshell, AC cannot recover any punitive damages.

"The Better Business Bureau moves for summary judgement on the following and separate grounds because there are no genuine issues of material fact with respect to AC's defamation and business disparagement causes of action." Basically Timmy complains about every statement in the BBB report. They rightly contend that their statements are literally or substantially true and not by definition defamatory in nature. The BBB statements are also not negligent in nature, malicious or actionable (lawsuit material). The BBB easily demonstrates that not one charge Timmy leveled at them has any merit whatsoever.

The BBB describes itself as "an independent, non-profit corporation founded in the 1920's, promotes ethical business practices in marketplace transactions through voluntary self-regulation. Its services include publication to the general public of consumer alerts and tips, newsletters, reports on businesses, complaint processing, dispute resolution and advertising review. Membership in the BBB is by invitation only. Members must meet and maintain the BBB's membership standards, which require among other things, truth and honesty in advertising and selling practices. The BBB reports on both members and non-members...As a matter of policy, however, the BBB does not recommend any company, service or product. The reports which are not guaranteed as to accuracy, are provided only to assist consumers in exercising their own best judgment."

The BBB then delves into the many misleading, fraudulent and dishonest statements that Timmy boy has made. AC founded by Tim Darnell says "its product is 'powerful information that bridges the gap between your current financial status and where you truly desire to be. This 'powerful information' is delivered in a two day conference...'Millionaire Mindset Conference...attendees absorb real-life stories, lessons, strategies, and advice from bona-fide millionaires.'" Those are the obscure unknown persons Timmy was referring to. The ones whose names and credentials were held secret until you attended the conference. Speakers who volunteered their time for a paltry $2000 donation to the charity of their choice. Truly laughable isn't it with all those multi-millionaires sitting around?

AC says the conference "is appropriate only for someone serious about earning a SIX or SEVEN DIGIT INCOME in the next eighteen months or less." AC touts "an income producing system" which allows "common people" to earn "$7000 Over and Over and Over again." Folks are told they can make ten of thousands quickly and a million in a matter of months. Six figure annual earnings are said to be realistic and all this without selling or talking to anyone. We already knew that the interest form asked folks to sign up to make 100 grand to 1 million a year. AC apparently in the early days had the nerve to call this "absolutely predictable."

AC is primarily marketed through the internet and reps have their own pages to recruit more reps by being "professional inviters". Folks can sign up to do the "3 simple steps" where they hear the compensation presentation. Reps are told of the "Reverse Margin" and the powerful matrix with multiples of 2. The focus is on exposing folks to the repship/recruiting opportunity and talk of exposing the opportunity to thousands a week. "AC teaches that if a recruit asks 'What is your product' that recruit is not a prospect" The rep is to recruit 5 EMPs [Extraordinary Marketing Professionals] to be MMC IV mentors (10 grand paying recruits). AC reps are taught to say things like, "I promote a unique opportunity called Advantage Conferences and target individuals via the internet that are serious about becoming millionaires...Expose this opportunity to big numbers - you will receive big numbers." The BBB found there have been no retail sales of the conference.

The rep pays $9995 (or ten grand for simplicity) and then makes 2 qualifying sales before becoming eligible to collect the $7000 commissions. Timmy claims one can pay $59.95, make 3 ten grand sales and qualify that way, but as of this BBB motion it has never happened. Recruits were told of the "Miraculous Power of 2" so as each rep hands up their 2 qualifying sales to you the Pro rep you can make $14,000, $28,000 and so on up to over a million in 28 weeks. Tim makes it clear to the recruit that one must pay the full ten grand to succeed at the opportunity. AC questions the commitment of one who won't pay the full price. So there is tremendous economic and psychological pressure to spend the ten grand as not to would be "business suicide."

When AC applied for membership, the BBB questioned its business model, truthfulness in advertising, and its use of copyrights and trademarks, earnings representation and whether it is a pyramid scheme. Folks would only see a report if they went to the BBB site and specifically typed in the compnay name or phone number, so it was not all over the net as Timmy seemed to think.

Next the BBB discusses all the statements that Timmy was complaining about. The BBB couldn't complete its investigation as Timmy filed his suit and everything got turned over to the lawyers and the discovery process. As we have seen Timmy's 38 pages of mindnumbing response I will not list the complained of statements again. A tremendous amount of case law and legal definitions follows. The points listed at the beginning of the document cover this material.

The most unbelievable statement was AC's claim that the average earnings, not net profit is $3056.65. So, after a ten grand conference purchase, travel expenses, rental car, hotel, meals, advertising and business expenses, the rep has spent 15-20 grand and gotten back only 3 thousand. So, they are in the hole 12-17 grand after Timmy/AC is done wih them. That is financially devastating. They point out how misleading Jack W's statements are. Even with a disclaimer folks are not likely to understand that one like him is a one or handful in thousands and not results that are attainable.

There is a discussion of pyramids and how a product can be a cover for a pyramid scheme where there are little or no sales outside the pyramid, thus no retail sales. So, one is buying their spot in a recruiting scheme. Even the mouthpeice for the industry, the Direct Selling Association warns folks to stay away from companies where little or no products are retailed. The FTC makes the same observation that sales within the rep group means the venture is a pyramid. The FTC also warns against any venture where income is dependent on the growth of a downline. Gregg Abbott, the Texas AG makes similair statements, so hopefully he is ready to act against AC.

The BBB then again explains the "Power of 2" and shows how Timmy/AC clearly pushed all the reps to simply recruit other reps. A simple customer is not going to recruit and add to your "7000 over and over" or astronomical growth, now are they? So, as we already guessed there has not been one retail sale as of this BBB writing. Shocked, aren't you! Of course some of these presentations by AC have morphed recently as it has been pointed out by many entities that Timmy was running a pyramid scheme.

The BBB points out that raising all these issues we have been reading about, such as misleading advertising, fraud and pyramid schemes is "entirely consistent with the BBB's function and purpose." They are also matters of public concern despite Tim's assertion to the contrary. TV, newspapers and scam.com among others are places where discussion of pyramid schemes is taking place. The thread we are on right now was mentioned and was 43 pages long at the time the BBB prepared this document and made us an exhibit. Dr. Taylor learned of AC from a consumer inquiry and included it his list of MLMs.

The document closes with the BBB asking for summary judgment, recovery of court costs and any other relief to which they may be entitled. The judge had a very easy decision to make, didn't she?

Mr. Ciarochi-

In reply to your letter of 12:34 today:

1. < On that website, you make many strong and inflammatory allegations regarding my client. These statements are not true. >

The statements are as true as that you are sitting in your chair at this time. I do not volunteer my time for the sake of consumers without serious analysis, based on extensive research on endless chain schemes such as Advantage Conferences.

They were not posted in haste, but based on ten years research of such schemes -which could hardly be classified as haste. And the information on the compensation plan was extracted directly from the web site.

3.

The latter is already done, more than you or your client realize. In fact, it was the obvious potential for widespread victimization that this scheme represents that led me to post the evaluation of Advantage Conferences in the first place. But to save myself hassle, I plan to remove the posting from the site. You and he will find this a hollow victory, for reasons explained below.

4. < If my client hears nothing, it will be forced to assume that your website is another cybercriminal trying to earn money at the public's expense.> (Did you really intend to refer to your client as an "it?")

Now let's see. Who is the criminal in this case? And who is earning money? You certainly don't write threatening letters for your clients pro bono, and your client isn't conducting this scheme out of the goodness of his heart. But I do donate my time to help expose uneconomic schemes such as AC. Please tell your client, who I assume is Tim Darnell, that-

- I am in frequent contact with law enforcement officials in many states. As you know, some states are more vigilant in acting against these schemes than others.
- Due to your threatening letter and to compensate for the loss of the evaluation on my web site, I will redouble my efforts to bring this scam to the direct attention of law enforcement officials and consumer protection officials around the country. I plan to send out a bulletin alerting officials about the AC endless chain scheme, which is about as close to a naked pyramid scheme as any I've seen recently. Neither you nor he can stop me from taking this action, if I choose to do so.

Mr. Ciarochi -

I am double-checking the AC web site to verify all my conclusions re AC. I shall then be forwarding the information to the appropriate consumer protection officials nation wide, as well as the media. It takes time to verify addresses and to identify appropriate officials for this particular type of endless chain recruitment scheme - which it clearly is.

This all takes time. As I wrote earlier: "But to save myself hassle, I plan to remove the posting from the site. You and he will find this a hollow victory."

As soon as I complete this process, I plan to remove the posting from the site, and not a moment sooner - so that consumers will have some degree of protection. Law enforcement should ultimately act on this, but often many are victimized before agencies kick in gear.

CAUSE NO. 0511461

ADVANTAGE CONFERENCES, LLC

Plaintiff,

v.

BETTER BUSINESS BUREAU OF METROPOLITAN DALLAS, INC. AND JON TAYLOR, Defendants.

§ § § § § § § § § § § § § § §

DALLAS COUNTY, TEXAS 4th: , JUDICIAL DISTRICT

Affidavit of Tim Darnell

BEFORE ME, the undersigned notary, on this day personally appeared Tim

Darnell, a person whose identity is known to me. After I administered an oath to him, upon his oath, he said:

1. "My name is Tim Darnell. I am capable of making this affidavit. I am over the age of 21, competent, and I am have not been convicted of a crime involving dishonesty or a felony. The facts stated in this affidavit are within my personal knowledge and are true and correct.
2. "I have read Plaintiff's Original Petition and Application for Temporary Restraining Order ("Petition"). The allegations stated therein are within my personal knowledge and are true and correct.
3. "I am an officer of Advantage Conferences, LLC ("AC").

4. "AC applied for membership in the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Dallas, Inc. ("BBB"). AC paid a fee to the BBB and submitted information regarding

PLAINTIFF'S AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT OF DEFAULT JUDGMENT¹

AC's business. Defendant BBB sent a letter to AC on October 26, 2005. A true and correct copy of that letter is attached to this affidavit as Exhibit A.

A. Facts regarding false and misleading statements related to request for proof that ten individuals affiliated with Plaintiff made over $ 7,000.

5. "In that letter, the BBB requested that AC provide additional information prior to the vote of the membership committee. The BBB requested proof that ten individuals affiliated with Plaintiff had made more than $ 7,000. See exhibit A. AC provided the BBB with the names, addresses, and telephone numbers of ten individuals who made over $ 7,000 in its written response to the BBB. A true and correct copy of the letter submitted to the BBB on November 1, 2005 is attached as Exhibit B. Even after this information was submitted, the BBB website continued to have webpostings that misled the general public on this issue and suggested that AC did not respond with correct information by the November 1, 2005 BBB deadline. A true and correct copy of the information posted on the BBB website regarding AC is attached as Exhibit C. The November 2, 2005 BBB web posting regarding AC, which was one day after AC responded, stated that the BBB was still awaiting a reply. This information was false and misleading. I contacted Mr. Christopher

Burgess of the BBB after the erroneous postings continued and I received no response. A true and correct copy of the correspondence between AC and the BBB dated November 3, 2005 is attached as Exhibit D. Up until Friday, November 5, 2005, the posting regarding this information remained the same. The BBB could easily contact all ten individuals on the list and verify that these individuals each earned the sum of money claimed. The BBB chose instead to only state that it has received information that it is reviewing. A true and correct copy of the BBB's web postings regarding AC is attached as Exhibit E. A statement that places AC's earnings in question and continuing statements to that effect have harmed and continue to harm AC. This issue was brought up to counsel for the BBB, Charles L. Babcock on several occasions. A true and correct copy of the correspondence between counsel for AC and the BBB from November 9, 2005 is attached as Exhibit F. In spite of being told that the information posted by the BBB is confusing and harmful, the BBB has chosen to ignore requests to provide additional information. True and correct copies of an earlier demand letter sent from counsel for AC to counsel for the BBB from November 3, 2005 is attached as Exhibit G.

B. Facts regarding claims of an "unsatisfactory record" with the BBB.

6. "The current BBB website posting states that AC has an "unsatisfactory records with the Bureau due to Failure to discontinue advertising claims." See

Exhibit E. This connotation is very negative and has had an adverse impact on the image of AC. These statements are false. AC was never given a demand by BBB to "discontinue advertising claims." During the application process and based upon the BBB's letter, AC modified its website to delete references to trademark or copyright applications. AC has been in the process of obtaining intellectual property for its marketing materials, including the -, phrase "Millionaire Mindset Conference." However, to please the BBB, AC deleted ~ these references in its website. After AC changed its website, the BBB posting regarding AC did not report these changes and continued to state that the AC website violated the BBB's policies. See Exhibit C. After contacting the BBB on several occasions after the November 1,2005 submission deadline to discuss why the BBB's website would not remove references to the "unsatisfactory" records, AC was very frustrated that it did not receive any feedback from the BBB as to why it was in violation. See Exhibit D. Counsel for the BBB was also asked to correct these website inaccuracies. A true and correct copy of correspondence between counsel for the BBB and AC dated November 4, 2005 is attached as Exhibit H. Ultimately, AC even removed copyright and trademark symbols on "buttons" that do not appear on the majority of the websites. All other 1/3 references to copyright and trademarked materials were removed prior to this time. The evidence shows that the record of AC with regards to advertising is not unsatisfactory. AC has no ongoing violations of the BBB's policies and it never received a demand from the BBB. The notion of having a satisfactory record with an organization is important. The BBB webposting states that AC has a "unsatisfactory" record even though (1) AC complied with the BBB's standard as soon as the standard was first identified and (2) a review of the total number of days in which the BBB has rated AC's website reveals that, at a minimum, AC has complied with the standard for several days and has had a web site that is satisfactory for more days than the limited period of time in which the BBB unilaterally labeled the website as unsatisfactory. It is false and misleading to state that AC has an unsatisfactory record when it is compliant. It is also false and misleading to suggest to third parties that AC had an unsatisfactory record "due to its failure to discontinue advertising claims" when it has changed its Practices and it does not know of any claims that must discontinue. See Exhibit E. AC has attempted to resolve this matter without Court intervention on numerous occasions. See Exhibit H. Because this information is false and misleading and harmful, AC needs a restraining order to have it removed. Even the hint that AC has an unsatisfactory record with the BBB harms AC.

Additionally, it is important to mention that the BBB appears to believe that

determination of having an unsatisfactory record with the BBB is a unilateral decision that cannot be reviewed. The posting by the BBB appears to be an indelible mark in the BBB's mind. These statements have persisted even though AC has been in compliance with these standards ever since AC received notice of any issues with regards to the BBB's policy on website claims. It is false and misleading to state that a record is unsatisfactory when it has been satisfactory for more days than the number of days whereby BBB alerted AC of any deficiencies. See Exhibit E.

False and misleading information regarding my name (Tim Darnell).

7. "AC contacted the BBB with regards to false and misleading information relating to AC and my name (Tim Darnell). The web posting by the BBB indicates that the President of AC was also the President of All-Star Entrepreneur, LLC, a company that is no longer in business. See Exhibit H. This information is not accurate. The BBB has been told on more than one occasion that Claudia Cawley is the last president of All-Star Entrepreneur, LLC and that I resigned in mid 2003. This information was sent to the BBB in writing. See exhibits F and H. evidently the BBB believes that the information is correct "according to information in Bureau records." Given that the BBB's records should have been updated to include this additional information, the statements on the BBB's website regarding AC are false and misleading. BBB has had ample time to contact Claudia Cawley or me and verify this claim.

The BBB appears unwilling to do so without Court intervention.

D. Deletion of the references to copyright and trademark issues

8. "Similar to the issue of the claim of an "unsatisfactory record," the BBB site has a claim that AC had a website that was in violation of BBB' s policies regarding the use of trademarks and copyrights. AC removed all of its references to these and yet the BBB posting insists on stating a prior "violation." See Exhibit H. This is true even though AC has submitted intellectual property protection for phrases such as the "Millionaire Mindset Conference" and AC has used these phrases exclusively for several years. Our competitors try to take advantage of the AC name and AC's names for its conferences to try and get business, just as Defendant Jon Taylor attempted to do by having his website appear first in a Google website search for the name of my company, "Advantage Conferences, LLC." It is harmful for the BBB po stings to suggest that AC had wrongfully had the intellectual property claims affiliated with these phrases when the BBB new that this information was used solely for the BBB. Additionally, there is no public benefit in having the BBB unilaterally suggest wrongful conduct by AC.

E. Deletion to references of a "pyramid" marketing scheme

9. "As everyone knows, allegations that a company is a ponzi scheme or an illegal pyramid scheme are harmful to a business regardless of whether they are substantiated. After I submitted AC's application to join the BBB, the BBB required that AC submit an explanation as to why it is not attempting to conduct an illegal pyramid scheme. See Exhibit A. AC timely submitted a detailed explanation on this issue. See Exhibit B.

Even days after this information was submitted to the BBB, the BBB webposting regarding AC stated that "On October 25,2005, the Bureau contacted the company with evidence that it was primarily promoting a pyramid scheme through its website" and that the BBB was still awaiting a reply that was due on November 1,2005. See Exhibit C. These postings caused harm to AC and caused AC to lose sales. Even the most recent po stings on the BBB site referencing AC refer to the "pyramid." See Exhibit E. My lawyer and I have made numerous complaints that it is highly inflammatory to suggest that AC is a concocted fraud or pyramid scheme and to leave the allegation of criminal activity on the website. See Exhibits F, G, and H. AC is harmed when a webposting suggests that it is part of a pyramid scheme. These po stings harm AC regardless of what the BBB ultimately believes about AC. Additionally, several other companies in the Dallas area with positive reviews from the BBB have used and are currently operating with similar marketing and compensation packages such as International Galleries, Inc., Mary Kay, Inc. BeautiControl Cosmetics, Inc. and Mannatech, Inc. All of this information was shared with the BBB. See Exhibit F."

F. Additional facts justifying the need to restrain Defendant Taylor

10. Upon information and belief, Defendant Jon Taylor learned of Plaintiff's business through the BBB. Defendant Taylor then made his own website that accuses Plaintiff of misconduct. Defendant Taylor is motivated by a desire to have AC's business. Defendant Taylor added AC's name to its website so that a search for AC's business name on Google reveals Taylor's site as one of the top four links. Defendant Taylor evidently uses links on his website to attempt to get internet searchers of "Advantage Conferences" to go to his website after a search and sign up with Taylor's web based or marketing businesses. Defendant Taylor has never been a customer of Plaintiff's and has not made any inquiries in Plaintiff's organization. A true and correct copy of Defendant Taylor's web postings is attached as Exhibit I. The statements contained in this webposting are not true. These statements are misleading and suggest that AC is engaged in a pyramid scheme. AC does not think that there is evidence to check all five of the information boxes as "yes" for the questions submitted on Defendant Taylor's website.

Defendant Taylor never contacted Plaintiff regarding its information or its compensation structure. Defendant Taylor has been asked to remove his website and has agreed to do so. A true and correct copy of the letters between Plaintiff and Mr. Taylor is attached as Exhibit J to the Affidavit of Tim Darnell. As of the date of the filing of this lawsuit, Defendant Taylor has not removed the website referencing Plaintiff and the false and misleading statements harm Plaintiff.

G. Additional facts relating to the application for the temporary restraining order

11. "The inaccurate and erroneous postings by the BBB have caused and continue to cause AC to suffer irreparable harm in terms of a loss of business, a loss of reputation, and a loss of goodwill. I know that AC has lost over $ 30,000 in sales because purchasers of the most expensive weekend conferences have been canceled with a direct reference to the BBB posting. AC is clearly not a pyramid scheme and individuals have relied upon the BBB's statements suggesting that AC is conducting a pyramid scheme and the current statements that the BBB is conducting an investigation suggest that AC is involved in criminal activities. AC's business will never be the same and its reputation is continually harmed by the incorrect statements. The same is true with regards to the incorrect statements relating to AC having an "unsatisfactory record" and the references to the copyright issue. AC changed its website to appease the BBB and now it is being punished for removing references to intellectual property that it was obtaining. The "Millionaire Mindset Conference" is the name of our conference and we are the only business using that name. AC had taken steps to secure the intellectual property for the name that it uses well before applying for membership of the BBB. The same is true for the incorrect statements suggesting that current President of AC was the President of a former company when it went out of business.

12. "The facts support AC's claim for breach of contract. AC applied for membership of the BBB, provided the necessary information and paid the dues. AC supplied the BBB with important, confidential proprietary information and the BBB chose to provide false and misleading information on its website. AC did not consent to this false and misleading information and the BBB has not fulfilled its obligations to report information truthfully, to handle a businesses' reputation with care, or to exercise reasonable care for a prospective member that it is reviewing. In fact, AC has only been harmed since it submitted its application for membership with the BBB.

13. "The facts support AC's cause of action for slander and business disparagement.

Defendants said many things that were not true and those statements have harmed AC.

14. "The facts support AC's claim against tortious interference. The BBB was aware of the existence of contractual relationships and prospective contractual relationships between AC and its clients and sales representatives. BBB failed to provide accurate information and chose language that would harm AC's business.

The BB's conduct proximately caused AC to suffer damages. Sales have been lost because of the BBB's conduct.

15. "There is no evidence supporting the need for a bond for this restraining order. If this court finds the need for a bond for risk of error, that bond should not exceed $ 250. The BBB and Mr. Taylor are not harmed by any restraint. I have submitted older inaccurate web postings by both Defendants that have harmed AC in the past. The overall sales of the BBB and Mr. Taylor will not be affected by a restriction on the ability of these two Defendants to slander AC. The cost of suspending the websites for both of these Defendants is cumulatively less than $ 250 and involves only making changes to one computer and submitting that information. Neither Defendant has a great economic interest in continuing to post inaccurate information regarding AC."

Further Affiant sayeth not.

CERTIFIED MAIL October 26, 2005

Mr. Timothy Darnell Advantage Conferences LLC 1513 Home Park Drive Allen, Texas 75002

Dear Mr. Darnell:

Your recent application for membership in the Better Business Bureau of Metropolitan Dallas, Inc., has been submitted to the membership committee of our Board of Directors for its consideration as required in Article 3, Section 3, of our Bylaws.

The Membership Committee voted to defer consideration of your application, as you know, until its next meeting on November 21, 2005. So that the Committee can make a well-informed decision, we are requesting additional information.

The basic principle of the enclosed BBB Code of Advertising indicates the responsibility for truthful advertising rests with the advertiser. Advertisers should be prepared to substantiate any claims, upon request, to the Better Business Bureau. On October 25, 2005 the website for Advantage Conferences stated, "The Income Producing System Specifically Designed to Provide Uncommon Income for Common People $7,000.00 over and over and over again: Consequently, we shall appreciate your providing us with 10 individuals who earned the stated amount.

Additionally, we shall appreciate your modifying your website to eliminate any reference to trademarked or copyrighted text that is in fact not trademarked or copyrighted. In our conversation of October 21, 2005 and again on October 25, 2005, you admitted that MMillionaire Mindset Conference Income Producing System" is not trademarked; however, a review of the site www.advantageconferences.com/vip/income opportunity. asp on October 26, 2005 shows false statements of trademark and copyright. Please make that change by November 1, 2005.

Finally, please provide a statement as to why Advantage Conferences is not conducting an illegal pyramid scheme. A pyramid promotional scheme Is a plan or operation by which a person gives consideration for the opportunity to receive compensation that is derived primarily from a person's introduction of other persons to participate In the plan or operatio,:", rather than from the sale of a product by a person Introduced into the plan of operation. Enclosed Is page 9 of the "Getting Started E-Package" that the Bureau 'interprets as an Illegal pyramid scheme.

As one way of fulfilling Its mission to foster marketplace self-regulation, the Better Business Bureau develops reports about companies that are made avaUable to the public. The Bureau reports on members and lion-members alike. BBB reports are Intended to provide inquirers with Information documented In Bureau files.

Thank you for your cooperation on this matter. Please provide your written response by November 1, 2005.

Sincerely,

As with any business, success does not occur overnight. Advantage Conferences Reps are taught proven mechanical marketing techniques and appropriate mindset development, including the importance of patience. At Advantage Conferences, Reps go through a training process that entails the creation of 3 training sales with the help of their Pro Rep. Making the required training sales is exciting for the new Rep because they now understand that they are indeed able to make the sales. As a qualified Pro Rep, being able to make these sales affords them the $7,000.00 Reverse Margin™ commissions over and over again.

II. Request #2: Modify Your Website to eliminate any reference to trademarked or copyrighted text that in fact are not trademarked or copyrighted.

Those changes were all made as of Thursday, 10-27-05 at 7: 33 PM. Please review the site to substantiate that these changes have been instituted.

III. Request #3: Please provide a statement as to why Advantage Conferences is not conducting an illegal pyramid scheme.

"It is important to be aware of and understand what kinds of "business models" exist in society today. Beyond the importance of discriminating between legal and illegal models, one must also fully understand how those business models {that have passed the legal criterion} actually pay, how long it will take to actually create meaningful profits, and what size (percentage and dollar amounts) those profits will be."

"It has been my very clear experience that most income opportunities, including those of well-known 'name-brand' companies are simply not "doable" by the common person. It has been my quest for over five years to structure the best, legal and professional compensation structure whereby the common person can fairly create substantive profits, and whereby the Company can profit as well. '

"For one to comprehend how compensation plans vary, they must take the time to analyze at least four distinctly different compensation structures. I have been asked to explain why Advantage Conferences Reverse Margin™ is not an Illegal pyramid scheme. This response will not only serve to clarify that distinction, it will also point out the clear difference, as well as ethical, moral, and functional advantage Advantage Conferences' federally trademarked Reverse Margin™ business model has over other universally accepted business models.

A. Illegal Pyramid: An illegal pyramid is no more than a money game veiled as a legitimate Income opportunity. They are characterized by several distinguishing features:

1. Individuals purchase a position and cannot participate without that purchase.

2. There is no product of genuine substance

3. There are no refunds

4. The "opportunities" are always short lived and shut down within days or months of their inception

5. Also known as "ponzi schemes", these structures pay those at the top – those at the bottom will not get paid unless they rise to one of the top positions. This is an inescapable win/lose scenario.

B. Direct Sales: Individuals apply to become "agents" to represent a Company's product and make commissions based on the marketing and sale of the product.

1. Traditional Direct Sales: Normally Agents are initially paid draws against commissions for a start-up period of one to three months. The commission amounts range anywhere from 1 % to 30%. Turnover is constantly a problem for two reasons:

I. The Company operates on approximately 70% of the revenue from the sold Item, leaving 30 percent or less to the sales force. The sales force then allocates (fractures) the 30 percent to various management tiers (e.g.; National office, Regional office, State office, District office, City office, etc.) leaving a fraction of the revenues for the actual Selling Agent. This small percentage results in a commission amount that necessitates multiple sells for any meaningful total.

b. Due to the high number of sales required for a person to eke out a decent monthly Income - most find they are not able to satisfactorily support themselves, and end up quitting. Although there are other factors to consider, It Is a direct correlation to the compensation structure and low revenue allocations that high turnover is a feature of virtually all direct sales companies.

2. Multi-level Marketing (MLM): Distributors are not paid draws, but are paid based on production - their personal sales and a percentage of volumes they cause to occur through their enrolling and sales efforts. Note how similar MLM is to Traditional Direct Sales:

a. The Company operates on approximately 70% of the revenue from the sold item, leaving 30 percent or less to the sales force. The sales force then allocates (fractures) the 30 percent to various management levels determined by their level of volume or a certain percentage on a tiered commission structure leaving a fraction of the revenues for the selling agent. This small percentage results in a commission amount that necessitates multiple sales in order to add up to meaningful commission totals.

b. Due to the high number of sales required for a distributor to eke out a decent monthly income - most who try these programs find they are not able to satisfactorily support themselves and quit. High turnover is a feature of all MLM programs due to the large number of people and huge time investment required for any significant return.

3. Reverse Margin": Pro Reps are not paid draws, but are paid based on their production (sales) - a percentage of individual sales they cause to occur through their sales efforts. Reverse Margin"" commissions are not contingent on group volumes or 'difficult to attain' quotas built into Traditional Direct Sales and MLM structures. Commissions are also not contingent on enrolling people, but rather only on the sale of a product.

a. Substantially Larger Percentage Commissions: The Company operates on 30-50 percent of the revenue from the sold item, leaving 50-70 percent not just to the sales team, but to the individual Pro Rep. This larger percentage results in a significant and meaningful commission amount on single transactions that can more fairly sustain a person who must support themselves and their family.

b. Less Sales Required to Survive and Achieve Decent Incomes: Rather than necessitating large numbers of people and transactions as do Traditional Direct Sales and MLMs, Reverse Margin"" rewards the Pro Rep a full, non-fractured 50-70 percent allocation on larger ticket items. The result is a more substantive dollar amount available to the seller. Simply put, the less transactions required to achieve personal income goals, the more DOABLE & REALISTIC an opportunity is for the common person.

c. One Sale One Commission: Rather than fracturing commission allocations and distributing them to several persons or offices, each sale and its accompanying commission belongs to one person and one person only. Again, this allows each sales event to be a significant event to the seller. It allows them a greater likelihood to not only sustain their family, but also to create larger commissions for getting out of debt and establishing a stronger financial condition.

d. Lower Turnover: A more realistic, viable and doable pay structure equates to lower turnover.

Re: Advantage Conferences BS (Merged)C. Side by Side Comparison of an Illegal Pyramid to Advantage Conferences Reverse Margintm

1. Individuals purchase a position and cannot participate without that purchase. With Advantage Conferences, Individuals are not required to purchase any product whatsoever, and yet may participate In commissions. Any and all product purchases are optional. The only requirement to represent the Company and participate is an enrollment processing fee of $59.95. This fact Is clearly repeated throughout the sales and enrollment process both verbally and in writing.

2. There is no product of genuine substance. The Millionaire Mindset Conference Is a tangible, proprietary, and highly valuable product professionally produced only by Advantage Conferences. The conference requires months of preparation, hundreds of man-hours prior to and during the event, and the expenditure of sizeable Company monies In order to promote and produce.

3. There are no refunds. The Company offers a full purchase refund in compliance with Texas State law's 72 hour Right of Rescission provision, AND ADDITIONALLY a 100 percent satisfaction, money back, post-conference guarantee for anyone dissatisfied with the content or benefit of their attendance.

4. The "opportunities" are always short lived and shut down within days or months of their inception. Advantage Conferences is here for the long term, Including periodic reviews with our attorneys regarding any and all compliance issues on a state and national level. The Company owner has been a marketing professional as an independent contractor since 1982 and has owned hIs own marketing company since 2001.

5. Also known as "ponzi schemes", these structures pay those at the top –those at the bottom will not get paid unless they rise to one of the top positions. This is an inescapable win/lose scenario. Reps are paid based on their sales, not on other people coming into their business.

If you have any other questions, please call Advantage Conferences Office Manager, Laura Porter, to schedule an Interview with me.

Thank you for your dialogue and scrutiny, both of which serve to elevate the Company's high standards of fairness and Integrity.
