RE: Cease & Desist – "FanBox Scam or Legit"

Dear Realscam Administrator:

This office represents SMS.AC, Inc. owner and operator of FanBox.com ("FanBox"). Recently, it has come to FanBox's attention that your site has made defamatory statements regarding FanBox's business in the forum post entitled FanBox Scam or Legit by poster JustTooMuchTime.

The post makes several untrue and defamatory statements regarding FanBox's business. These statements were made maliciously to injure FanBox in its trade, office and profession, making them defamatory per se. I have noted some of the more patent, malicious and libelous comments made by poster JustTooMuchTime: "Again, my friend has done NOTHING with FanBox, so the recent earnings claim seems to be some sort of plot to get people to pay processing fees."

On behalf of FanBox, I demand that Realscam.com immediately remove the above-entitled post and cease and desist from republishing defamatory statements regarding FanBox's business. Should Realscam.com fail to comply with this demand, my client will immediately initiate formal legal proceedings seeking general damages. My client will also seek a preliminary injunction directing your website service provider to suspend service to your website.

Please advise if you will voluntarily comply with these demands. I look forward to your immediate response.

Sincerely yours,

Michael W. Battin
