Are they selling any ad space to people not in BB? Any publishers not in BB? Names please. I'm sure they won't tell you anyway.

Where is outside money coming in to pay for all these profits?

Scammers keep tapping into the intangible market, i.e. advertising or auto-surfing - Like selling air.

Create a spuedo website, then sell space on it, and it all looks like a legit product.

You never know where the bottom is. Could be you!! Just ask the adsurfdaily folks who lost millions. Btw, by the time asd hit scam.com, the end was near. Scary huh?

NONE of the publisher websites where adspace is purchased comes from the BB membership. Put it this way, you buy a car, you sell that car at a profit, you decide to buy more cars out of that money and not take anything out to spend. That's how basically this thing works although much more complicated when you actually look into it. It's built for longevity, yes they are developing their own websites such as a social network site called promo121 etc. Of course they will have adspace on these sites to sell and why not?

They do not play one member off the other, if they did they wouldn't be around this long, here since nov'10. It's ok if you want to say its a scam etc because I though exactly that 9 months ago but then I did my due diligence and saw exactly what it was/says. An INNOVATIVE way to earn revenue online.

Do some research and find the negatives.

OH JUST MAKING SURE YOU READ THIS PART, IT'S TOTALLY PASSIVE IF YOU WANT ;)

Really?

"We supply you with inventory (online ad space) on various websites owned and operated by Banners Broker – think of it as your own profitable online real estate. Each of these sites already has a sizeable amount of existing traffic. So each time your ad space produces impressions for selected banners on the site, you earn a commission."

If MLM is such a wonderful business model, why aren't you still doing Amway?

Yes "REALLY", where in that does it say that they are using members (publishers) websites? I already stated that they are building their own network of sites including a social network, with 40,000 already in the membership it would be a smart move.

Here are your own words:

Quote:

If you have your own website BB will find you advertisers to place on your site. If you take the advertiser route then they'll find publishers to place your ads on. It's just like Adwords and adsense except that the combo package combines both. That's what I chose. As well as my ad inventory that I rent I get impressions that I can use to advertise my business by attaching my own banners that BB will blast out virally. You then get a report about the amount of click throughs you get also.

So, technically, if you happen to have a business, the official website goes bye bye of that business gets placed on a page designed and hosted by BB which is EVEN WORSE See below...

Quote from another promoter:

right, here we go.... you have 3 options...you can be an advertiser, where you have a business to advertise and bb finds sites not connected to its members to advertise on..... you can be a publisher where you own a website, you must have 1000 hits per day, 24 hour maintenance etc and BB finds you advertisers (not from members) to advertise on your page.....you can have the ad-pub combo where you rent a space from a 200k site network and in turn advertisers come to you to use your space, as well as that you get impressions where you can create a campaign for your own BB business or any other business once its not gambling or adult material and target individual countries, cities etc.... you can then see a daily report on that campaign to see if you are getting any click throughs. I took the ad-pub combo as i dont have a business to advertise.

Just go to the main site and there is a video, you dont have to sign up to see it and it explains how its all connected

Ad-Pub Combo

Unlike any other online marketing opportunity available, Banners Broker offers its Combo Package to entrepreneurs who want to advertise their businesses and earn advertising revenue. The concept is simple. On the advertising side, you sign up for the campaign of your choice. On the publishing side, Banners Broker designs and hosts your very own virtual online store from which you earn attractive advertising commissions.

Uniqueness of Ad-Pub Combo

With this option, you get the best of both worlds. Ad Impressions for personal use, as well Ad Inventory that is purchased across our Publisher Network (over 150,000 sites).

What makes this unique, is whatever you spend on Ad Impressions, you will twice that amount from the revenue you earn as a Publisher. That is right! Twice!

This is what makes our program so effective and unique, you get to take advantage of the Ad Impressions to increase your web presence, while at the same time earn revenue from Publisher sites that you have rented space on. This is why Banners Broker is one of the fastest growing online advertising companies on the web today.

How Ad-Pub Combo Packs Earn Revenue

The Publisher is where all the revenue is generated in this program. It is NOT based on sales from new members, which we use to payout existing members, as the math would not work and it would make us illegal.

The uniqueness of this product is, that whatever you spend on the Ad-Pub Combo Package, you earn twice that amount from the revenue of your Ad-Inventory (Panels) which are included in the Pack of your choice.

New Members: Are allowed to buy only 1 Ad-Pub Combo Pack + Panels till a maximum amount of $5000, above which will be considered as a "Corporate Sale";

Existing Members: Are allowed to buy only Panels (as they already have 1 Ad-Pub Combo Pack in their account), till total amount of each buy of $5000;

Re: Banners Broker

Wow Jet, 5,000 dollars profit every month for 10,000 dollars investment. That is the best return I have ever heard of.

I deal in stocks, bonds and currencies. I am not adverse to taking a risk or two and am always attracted to the thoughts of high returns. But...600% returns p.a. I just can't see how that is possible.

I am a shareholder in google and they are not achieving such returns.

Now if google are the biggest competitor and their return is somewhere in the order of 29% for advertising, and banners brokers are somewhere in the order of 600%, then there is something serious wrong with this picture.

Can you explain the discrepancy? This you have to admit raises major suspicions.

Of course, I don't know the full workings of BB but the bottom line just does not add up. Can you explain what I am missing?

The above quote is so full of contradiction, I just don't know where to begin. I think the most telling is you bought the ad-pub pack, yet you don't have a business.

And if you did, you can't even use your own website but their virtual one!

You state that revenue comes from publishers and not members but you yourself are a publisher, ad-pub pack. Oh but you can RENT a website to sell ads on puleeeze.

BannersBroker has certainly done their job in confusing you and masking this ponzi scheme (for a while).

One question, can you cash in tomorrow and collect your money without penalty?

And as noname pointed out, a 600% return??!!!!!!

I strongly suggest, again, BB people research adsurfdaily over on patrickpretty.com because man you people are being blinded by greed. Shame on all of you that invite others into this. How are you going to feel when the bottom falls off and grandma lost her medicine money? Shame on you and being stupid is no excuse.

Like I said, I'm a newbie and I may be far off. but even if I was spot you, you're not ready to accept it anyway.

There are some people in this world, where no matter how good the opportunity is, they'll look for ways to discredit it or find fault with it, simply because they can.

They waste time by looking for reasons why they shouldn't do it rather than reasons for why they should.

It's a very pessimistic and cynical view of the world and this attitude towards opportunities will always end in letting every system pass by, even if it was the greatest system in the world.

They continue to look for faults while some other people look at them from the sidelines making money within the system and wondering what on earth are these people looking for. Even if you offered the world to them on a stick, they would find a problem with that.

So, my advice to anyone who's on the fence is to join BB. It's free to register. Look around the members area, and spend some time going through the tutorials.

Then spend as much time as you need interviewing every single person who has joined BB and ask them if they have ever lost money.

Even ask BB if anyone has ever left them after joining.

Remember, there is a limit to due diligence. Going over the line results in wasting time and is counter productive to making money online.

I was wondering how long it would take you to go down this road. This is the typical response which is taught by uplines who are making money off you. It is what people say when they can't answer the tough questions.

You do know that people will make money in ponzi schemes - That is how they work, duhhh. But you better know how close you are to the bottom "newbie".

So if I told you that could make a lot of money by sticking your head in the oven, you would just do it ? You wouldn't stop and have a little think, or even do a bit of research on things like, say, brains bursting at high temperatures ? No, of course, you wouldn't, but that's because you aren't cynical !

Well, maybe you should be, and then you could perhaps use Google, where you will find plenty of people complaining that they have paid money and not got a penny back. And you will find plenty of other people who explain just why it is a Ponzi scheme. You might even find the details of the rewards you should get when your "sales team" sell 100+ ad-packs, or 200+ ad-packs, etc, not that this is about recruiting and selling to people below you, no, no, this is how you can make a 600% return by not owning anything or doing any real work.

If you think this is about selling/renting/profit sharing from ad-space, then you have completely missed the point, and you get to stay at the bottom of the pyramid.

"For sale - second-hand BMW. Brand new price, 40 grand. Special offer price 50 grand. Hurry while stocks last"

Repeat the above process until I have made a fortune.

However, this is tiring for me, so how about these two schemes :

Scheme 1

You send me 40 grand.

I buy a car for 40 grand

I offer it for sale for 50 grand

I share the profit with you.

If I don't sell the car because nobody wants to pay 50 grand, I keep your money.

Scheme 2

You send me 200 dollars

I use it to buy panels.

I rent out the panels.

I split profit with you.

If I don't make any profit, because nobody is paying for such ad-space, I keep your money.

if you find more people to send me 200 dollars, I'll give you a gift, like a microwave oven, or a bicycle, or something.

Its an ad-pub package!!! Do you not get it??? If you have a business you design your banners, load them up to the site, they put them on THEIR sites (viral newscast being one) and others so people can view them until the impressions you get on that side of the business is used up. If you dont have a business (like me) then you can advertise your BB business and hope someone joins up using your banner link.

Then there is the other side of this package. This is where the revenue comes in as you will not receive revenue from people looking at your advertisements unless they actually ring you up after looking at your ad. You are renting space on a website, be it yahoo or facebook or whatever (just using these as an example) and then using an open market place you will get an advertiser that will want to use your space. Thats how you make the money simple as.

As for the 600% return google DOES all this and probably more but they dont profit share!! The previous poster might have shares in google but you are getting dividends whereas BB gives back 90% of their profits instead making money off membership fees and traffic that you buy if you want to do this passively.

I have seen the early bonuses of laptops, luxury holidays etc and that was to get this thing off the ground, very crudely ill admit and that was the old program. The legal safegaurds they have in place now in every country they operate and the opening of physical offices in multiple countries show that they have gotten so much more professional and are growing.

I get that it looks like a scam blah blah blah but at least PROVIDE EVIDENCE!!! Its been in existence since NOV'10 so has to be out there.

if there was nio product then yes id have to agree but theres a product ADVERTISING, there are three types of packages attached to the product, NONE OF THE MONEY A MEMBER PUTS IN GOES TOWARDS A PAYOUT. At least substantiate your claim which you will have to!!!

But oh wait you CANT!!

Keep spouting your garbage about this company and lets see where it gets you, you cant hide behind your keyboard and put down people or businesses without proof you know, not anymore and i bet you someone is looking at your claims from a legal point of view.

i have already told you that anyone that wants to advertise has to come from outside sources! None of the members are connected in any way when it comes to advertising or publishing. Im just going to mail this link onto support and get them to look at it if they havent already. Idiots like you cannot get around the fact a company will profit share, its called being innovative!!

Didn't you say that you could "advertise" your BB business?

Do they do that for free or do you have to buy a package or pay a fee to do that?

And if I understand this correctly, if I had a legit business and wanted to advertise it, it would only be on this viralnewscast website network which is BB own network. And that the people viewing it would be BB people.

Btw, I tried to go to that website and got the warning that site might harm your computer. Ei yi yi viralnewscast.com/This site may harm your computer.

Google headline below:

Then I just typed it in directly and a big red sign popped up on my screen.....Warning!

Here's what some others are saying in a BB blog:

Quote:

was just wondering if everyone's panels that were bought recently have the name "viral newscast" attached to the inventory section of the panels? Correct me if im wrong but doesnt this mean that i have bought panels on the viral newscast website which is a pretty bare website and i presume doesnt get a lot of hits? If so isnt it a bit strange that all my recent panels have been bought here when there are 150k more sites, with presumably higher traffic, that i could have bought space on?

Quote:

Allen, if I'm not mistaken, that is the only one that is showing at the time. It must me an example of what we will be seeing once they have the other 199,000 assigned to our panels. Not to be alarmed my friend! Your panels are and will continue to receive traffic at a steady pace no matter the publisher they are linked to. Hope that helped!

Quote:

I just learned something. Thank you, Allen.
Now, when I go to that ViralNewscast.com website and see all those BB ads all over that page, are one of those ads supposed to be mine?
Or, could one of those "spots" where all those BB ads are running now be my rental real estate for my other ads when they get them back up and running again? (I have other ads besides BB ads running campaigns)
I'm not new to banner advertising. I have never known how we would know specifically where our ads were running in this BB system.

Quote:

i thought you were buying space on a particular website for a period of time until you double your outlay. Thats why i think that eventually we will be able to see where our panels have been bought, i think it was mentioned in an earlier webinar, and we will have our panels spread throughout 200k websites not just viral newscast. Could be wrong but its just the way im interpreting things

IT'S ONLY A MATTER OF TIME!!!!

And if I understand this correctly, if I had a legit business and wanted to advertise it, it would only be on this viralnewscast website network which is BB own network. And that the people viewing it would be BB people.

Btw, I tried to go to that website and got the warning that site might harm your computer. Ei yiyi

Google headline below:

Welcome to viralnewscast.com!

viralnewscast.com/This site may harm your computer.

Then I just typed it in directly and a big red sign popped up on my screen.....Warning!

Here's what some others are saying in a BB blog:

IT'S ONLY A MATTER OF TIME!!!!

Char,

yes you can advertise your business whether its BB or something else, its included in the package you buy whether its the advertiser (which i have no experience of) or the ad-pub combo package. You dont earn revenue from this until someone orders from your business or signs up under you. The payments you recieve from BB all come from the publishing side of things. I just treat the advertiser aspect of my account as a kind of bonus.

Yes i have read those posts and its a forum, people are trying to figure out how this works as its so bloody complicated to begin with. there are so many aspects to it it literally takes months to grasp it, sometimes by error and thats why a lot iof peiople get their account managed. The managers only taker a fee on withdrawals so if you dont make money they wont.

As for viral newscast yes i had that warning also but carried on anyway just to see what it was like. Im guessing google warns you as all the content is grabbed from hundreds of other websites so the content is not owned by the host. Anyone can look at that site not just BB members.

If you had a business it gets advertised on more than the BB websites but again im not experienced in that side to give an exact answer. The ad space you rent is from a network of 200k websites that is bidded for with members money bpooled together.

Really ? So now you have got to the point of contradicting the BB website, and also contradicting yourself. BB and you call it the Ad-Combo package, where you can both advertise and earn revenue. That is, revenue being derived from members, like I said, and to which you have already agreed.

Idiots like you cannot get around the fact a company will profit share, its called being innovative!!

You think a company sharing profits is innovative ? Good grief, that explains everything !

Some might say that your claims of innovation are a hallmark of such schemes, whereas closer inspection reveals absolutely nothing new at all.

I note however that the moment you are questioned, you resort to personal abuse. Some might also say that is the standard response of those at the bottom of a pyramid, particularly from those who don't know there is a pyramid in the first place.

Now, I don't care much either way, but if somebody wants to post how wonderful something is, that is their prerogative, and if I want to ask questions, that is mine. But when I ask questions, and get insults in return, that speaks volumes.

I note the BB website testimonials section carries testimonials from BB members, but I don't see anything from an outside advertiser saying "hey, this is really good, much better than Google, we're going to cancel our Adwords".

In fact, searching the web, I can't find one comment from a happy advertiser.

But what I also find after searching, is other people in other forums and blogs also asking where are these outside advertisers, as they can't find any either.

Now, here are the real questions for you :

can you point me to any websites showing BB-brokered ads, where the ads are paid for by outsiders ? Who are these outside advertisers and where can you find their adverts, that is, can you point to evidence of this so-called outside money ?

Perhaps you could add those questions to your email to BB support.

Because without that, and the associated revenue, BB are only paying out from revenue coming from members, and we've all seen that before, that's not innovation.

But thats my whole point,you are making insinuations NOT asking just questions!!

Why can you not get the fact i am stating that IF YOU RENT SPACE ON SITES THROUGH BB THEN THE ADVERTISERS WHO IN TURN WANT TO USE THAT SPACE DO NOT COME FROM THE BB MEMBERSHIP?? Are you still not getting this. The membership is totally seperate to sales that advertise on the ad spaces. Its a different thing!! Those sales are found on an open marketplace where the spaces are put up for bidding. Do you not get that???? NONE OF THE REVENUE COMES FROM MEMBERS!!!! IT DOESNT HAVE TO!! tHE PUBLISHING SIDE OF THE Adpub combo poackage is seperate from the advertising side, again i say i use the advertising side as a bonus because the publishing side is where you get all the revenue FROM AN OPEN MARKET.Can you not read this???? As far as personal insults go you use an example i used and twisted it to read that i bought a car from a dealer,wtf???

You come on here and spout crap about a company you know nothing about, have no evidence of wrongdoing, havent a clue how the product works yet you think your having a balanced argument. Are you 12 years old or something???

Now please i will respond to any questions you have as i have done but i wont put up with smart comments or keep repeating myself someone who has no clue as to what he is talking about and lets on he does.

I have a business that does lots of work on the internet, and as a result I get solicited by everyone and their brother who sells adspace on the internet.

I wonder why? Are banner brokers not focused on selling ads to the large spenders outside their network?

Dude, we're trying to help you!!!

Your trying to help me?? How exactly, ill tell you how you and gsoh can help, learn how this business works,learn the product,dont make remarks about it when you seriously have not got a clue. I get that you are on here warning people about dodgey companies, thats why i found this site and this thread months ago when i joined BB. To see if people had info so it could help. But not one of you has any info except you are basing your strong opinions on other businesses that yes have caught people for money but this has been around since nov'10 allbeit in a very crude form before bb2 last january.

Your last post actually looks as if you are getting a little bit what i say as in yes you are a secondary publisher who then rents the space out to an outside advertiser NOT ON BB WEBSITES but a network of 200k websites. Thats the publisher side.

Yes you (a BB member) can advertise your business (BB or some other business you may have) using BB who can target countries or cities or the whole world in a targeted campaign.

Both these are part of the same package and cost anywhere from $10 to $2400 so none of it is free really you dont earn revenue from people joining up as a referral. You earn traffic. Thats how this whole thing works,they send traffic to your ads. If you want to go the passive route which a lot of people do and not refer a single person then you can buy the traffic,if you have referrals you dont have to buy some of the traffic,depends on how many referrals you have and how much they spent on packages but its not necessary to have any referrals,thats why i joined also.

They do sell member's adspace to advertisers outside their network, that's where the sales come from, not members. They buy the space using all members' money for low prices due to the spending power they have and then put it out on the marketplace and sell to the highest bidders in an open market for a profit.

Why wouldn't they compete with the lower priced ad space? As an outsider, I certainly wouldn't pay up for advertising when I know that not only could I get it cheaper, but that I could count on places where I could get sound and accurate effectiveness numbers.

It's very hard to attract the highest advertising bidders these days unless your last name is "NFL" and you are selling Superbowl minutes.

true but they dont need the highest bidders, they just need bidders who will make them a profit however high it would go. Ads will buy for a certain price and sell for a certain price, its their buying power that gets them the discount.

What is the percentage of outside advertisers buying space on banners broker vs the percentage of members advertising? And, same question about volume?

They are not buying the space on banners broker they are buying the space on the sites BB has bought space for you, that would be 100% if im getting your question correct. The volume would obviously depend on the amount BB spends on the spaces which would depend on the number of members (40,000 approx.), packages they started with ($10 to $2400 packages so that anyone can start as well as "corporate packages" over 5k) ,so as a member and not an employee i couldnt possibly give that figure.
